HAVE LOST ALL FAITH

After Waiting for Fourteen Years Track is Not Yet Extended.

BIBLE SCHOOL HEAD APPEALS TO COUNCIL

Promises Without Works Are as Tinkling Cymbals and Sounding Brass.

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Hebrews 11:1.

"Charity beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things." Corinthians 13:7. Faith, the unfaltering beacon of hope, as set out by Paul and the other apostles, is one of the corner stones upon which the Fort Wayne Bible school, located at the south end of South Wayne street, has built its power.

Hope and charity have joined in sweet communion with the other sacred attributes in the seemingly attitude of the Bible school towards the traction company.

For fourteen years, explained J. H. Allen, before the city council, Tuesday evening the Bible school has hoped for the evidence of things not seen by the way of an extension of the South Wayne car line.

But promises without works are as tinkling cymbals and as sounding brass. Even a Bible school can stand upon promises too long. Charity never faileth when charity is made up of stringent action. It is this kind of charity which the Bible school, which now enrolls seventy-five pupils, expects to adopt towards the traction company. It is the blessed sort which finally brought electric lights to the Bible school, Mr. Allen explained. It must also bring the car line to the door of the school.

J. H. Allen in a forceful address before the council body expressed no regrets because faith has been the portion of the testamental institution during the fourteen years that the school has silently waited for an extension of the car line. He believes that the day of answered petitions should be at hand, however. He asked the council to bare its strong arm in helping the work of inducing an extension of the city line.

Helpless, Say Council.
But the council has no strong right arm in this matter. Mr. Allen was told by President William Beyer, of the council. The city body has no authority to force the traction company to build a car line, Mr. Beyer explained. More than fifty residents of the district near the Bible school attended the council session to ascertain the action taken by the council in paving South Wayne street and extending the car line. The men and women fanned and mopped their brows with their handkerchiefs for more than an hour while the council proceeded with business leading up to the paving question. Frank Hilgeman delivered a talk in favor of the car line extension. He revived the long suffering attitude of the Bible school and expressed the opinion that 100 new homes would spring up in the neighborhood if the car line were extended.

Several council members spoke on the topic and all agreed that the attempt to force the traction company to action would be fruitless. If the pavement is laid now the car line will not be built in conjunction, traction officers had told councilmen.

In showing the effort being made by the traction company at present and the fact that no action now cannot be expected, President Feustel, of the traction corporation, had presented a communication which was delivered by President of the Council Beyer.

According to the communication the traction company's "new" double track cars are to be put in use in the city in September. These trucks are not a paying investment, but furnish excellent accommodation to the public, Beyer explained. Arrangements are being made with the Ohio Electric for extending the line to East Lewis street lines. All cars are to be re-labeled so that they can be distinguished a block away. The cars are to be marked so that persons can tell which car has departed and its destination. All the improvements planned will cost the company $75,000, it was claimed.

Over the opposing vote of Councilmen Olenoch and Rogge the council passed an ordinance ordering the paving of South Wayne avenue and the installing of a car line, but stating that the improvement is not to be started for twelve months. Councilmen said they had been told that the traction company will be able to pay for the extension in a year.

Let Getz Go.
The council voted against the petition for an increase in the pay of City Forester Carl Getz. Council Members Olenoch and John making up the committee on salaries, reported unfavorably on the proposition to retain Forester Getz by paying him more money. Councilmen Hartman and Schlebecker, of the parks and buildings committee, submitted a minority report and spoke in favor of retaining Mr. Getz. The negative report was adopted by the council.

Favor Industrial Track.
The petition for an industrial track between Montgomery and Holman streets, from the Pennsylvania railroad to Barr street, was adopted. Councilmen Olenoch and John making up the committee on the objection to the track. They told of damage to be done to the new colored Baptist church and to new homes built along

BE A 'WENT' NOT A 'SENT'

Men Who Hesitate to Enlist Hear This Slogan from Recruiting Officers.

103 ARE SENT FROM FT. WAYNE TUESDAY

Percentage of Rejections is Extremely Light Says Capt. T. F. Ryan.

"Be a 'went' not a 'sent'" are the words which men who hesitate to enlist are hearing from the lips of recruiting officers.

Results in Fort Wayne and the Fort Wayne district have been more than gratifying in the past few days and Captain Thomas F. Ryan, U. S. A., stated that 103 men were sent away Tuesday. At noon Wednesday 55 more were booked to leave. They were still filling into the office Wednesday afternoon.

Captain Ryan explained that the percentage of rejections has been smaller than any time during the recruiting period and the men who are presenting themselves for enlistment now are mostly physically fit.

It is also stated that a large percentage of the men who have been sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison are youths of Fort Wayne and Allen county. Many of those who were sent Tuesday enlisted as bakers and cooks.

Credit for Volunteers.
In apportioning draft quotas for all districts in the country credit was given for all voluntary enlistments prior to June 30, but it is believed that no credit on this draft will be given for the volunteers since that time.

The general opinion in recruits and is semi-official that the districts will be given credit for those who volunteered since June 30 on the next draft, which is likely to come next spring.

Mobilize August 5.
Commissioned officers of all the local national guard organizations have now received orders that they must mobilize their units on August 5. The plan is to have the companies remain in their home stations for a week or ten days, where each member will receive inoculation treatments.

It is likely that the companies will be sent directly to Fort Hartsburg, but rumor has it that the adjutant general's office that the companies will be called to Fort Benjamin Harrison for a few days at least.

Capt. S. Carter Here.
Capt. Solon Carter, commanding officer of Battery E, of Indianapolis, arrived in Fort Wayne Tuesday night to relieve Capt. Arthur O. Brooker, of Lafayette, now adjutant of the second battalion of Indiana field artillery. Captain Carter will assist in the work of recruiting Battery E.

One hundred and eighty names now appear on the roster of Battery B and six more men enlisted Wednesday morning. Company E, the infantry unit, enlisted ten more men Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ice Cream Social.
An ice cream social, the proceeds of which will be given to the treasury of Battery B, will be given next Tuesday evening at 1150 West Main street.

County Official Enlists.
Emmet Tieker, who was the special officer of the county who guarded the prisoners as they worked on the county roads, enlisted in the infantry and was sent to Fort Benjamin Harrison Wednesday.

Non-Com. School.
All non-commissioned officers of Battery B and all men who have been acting as non-commissioned officers are requested by order of the commanding officer to attend a "non-com" school which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

the way of the track. Other council members expressed the belief that the track will be a boon to business in the section to be affected.

How About Auto.
"What right has the food relief officer to purchase an automobile out of the city funds?" asked Council President Beyer, when the matter of donating another $1,000 for food relief work was presented before the body.

It was explained by Councilman Schlebecker that the auto is needed to hurry about the city in answer to the many calls for "help" from hungry city farmers. The machine will be sold when the summer's work is finished, Schlebecker explained.

In order to have the matter thoroughly investigated it was decided by the council to have the matter of an additional $1,000 placed before the finance committee for the next two weeks.

Ordinances were passed for appropriating $2,070 to pay increase in salaries of the policemen; appropriating $2,445 to pay increase in salaries of firemen; $1,500 from the general park fund to the maintenance of parks accounts; $300 to the department of public health to take care of increase in salaries of sanitary officers and the deputy meat and milk inspector.

NEW JUNIOR VICE.

Addie Mariotte was elected junior vice president at the regular meeting of the Wayne circle, No. 45, Ladies of the G. A. R., Tuesday evening, succeeding Nellie Vought, who has resigned.

Summary of the Day's War News

Russia's shaken armies in Galicia are still in a retreat, which bids fair to end until they reach approximately the line occupied by them last year before Gen. Brusiloff began his big offensive.

Despite this extensive retrograde movement, covering virtually all the front between the north Galician border and the Carpathian foot hills, the tone of both official and unofficial dispatches coming out of Petrograd is not pessimistic.

There is apparent evidence that the disorganization in the ranks, induced by the machinations of the extremists and believed to have been largely promoted by German intrigue, will be adequately dealt with and a firm front again be presented to the enemy. For one thing, the Germans by their own admission have not the men to spare to prosecute a sustained offensive on a large scale on the eastern front. The British and the French are keeping them too busy to do so.

A comprehensive of some extra forceful stroke in the west to transfer any great number of troops from the Franco-Belgian war area.

The Russians have big reserves of men and Premier Kerensky, with the vast powers now in his hands, will find it is possible, it is believed, to weed out the disloyal elements rapidly from the front ranks and replace them with the hosts of dependable troops which Russia still possesses.

The inherent strength of the entire position in the west has just received a fresh illustration in the fact that the French have managed to hold the German line in the west.

MORE RAIN THAN USUAL

Amount Thus Far This Year is Greater Than for Several Years.

SHOWER TUESDAY BRINGS HALF INCH

Average for Entire Season in This Region is 36.56 Inches.

Jupiter Pluvius, the "rain giver," has been extremely liberal in his offerings to Fort Wayne and Allen county this year. According to statistics compiled in the government weather bureau station in this city the rainfall thus far this year exceeds the average rainfall for this section, for the first seven months of the year.

Since March 1, 20.55 inches of rain have fallen, in comparison with the same length of time for the average the amount is 17.46. However January and February were slack in their amount of rainfall this year.

The following table gives by the weather man shows the amount of rainfall this year and the average.

Month	Average	1917
January	2.68	1.80
February	2.51	.52
March	3.85	3.71
April	2.95	2.47
May	3.69	4.00
June	3.57	4.63
July	2.60	4.84
Total	22.60	22.97

The average rainfall for the entire season for this region is 36.56 inches. The amount specified for July, 1917, in the above table is only up to date and does not include the rain which may fall between now and the last of the month.

It is seen from the above table that the rainfall since March has been heavier than the average. For July thus far the amount is 1.24 inches more.

The shower of Tuesday afternoon brought a half inch of water and the wind attained a velocity of twenty-eight miles an hour.

She states that it is utterly impossible to live with him any longer and asks the court to give her the decree and make provision for all other proper relief.

If a British offensive on the Belgian front is in prospect, as the unprecedented heavy artillery fire indicates, it is evident that the British have been launched. Today's official statement from London reports numerous successful raids in this area, but no wide movement of the British infantry. The Berlin bulletin announces continuation of the exceptionally violent big gun fire.

STORM DOES DAMAGE HERE

Two Houses and a Street Car Are Hit by Lightning.

PANIC AVERTED AT CHAUTAUQUA

For a Time It Was Feared Tent Would Be Blown Down.

Fort Wayne was visited late Tuesday afternoon by a terrific electrical storm that for a time threatened to do considerable damage. Fortunately, it did not last long. During the time that the storm was in progress one-half inch of water fell, according to official records kept at the weather bureau's office.

The storm came while the Creators band concert was in progress at the chautauqua grounds. The tent was crowded and although the lightning flashed and the wind threatened to tear the tent to shreds every person remained seated, averting what might have been a panic. After the storm had passed the concert was continued. Chautauqua officials declare they never before have seen a more orderly audience under such circumstances.

Three Fire Alarms sounded during the storm. One call was to the high school building, corner of Barr and Lewis streets, where lightning had been carried into the structure by electric light wires. A motor was burned out and switches blown. Loss is estimated at $10.

The home of Otto Albright, 1427 Taylor street, was struck by a lightning bolt. Shingles were scattered from the roof, but no fire of consequence resulted.

A telephone pole was badly burned at the corner of Clark and Columbus streets when hit by lightning.

Street Car Is Hit.
A Broadway-South Wayne street car, No. 298, was struck by a bolt of lightning at Lavinia street and Broadway at 4:20 o'clock Tuesday evening during the storm which visited the city. There were but five passengers on the car in addition to the conductor and motorman. It appeared as though the bolt struck a trolley wire near the car and the bolt followed the trolley pole down to the controller in the car. The heavy car seemed to sway when struck. There were long fierce flashes of fire inside the car and two lady passengers let out a shriek. The machinery of the car was damaged and had to be taken to the barn for repairs.

Seven Cattle Killed.
Lightning struck a large tree on the farm of Christ Fahlsing, just west of the Brookside farm, on the Bass road, and killed seven head of cattle which had sought shelter under the tree. Four of this number were milch cows and the other three were steers.

Appraisers set the value of the cattle at $625. Five of the number were owned by Christ Fahlsing, who carried $250 insurance in the Adams Township Fire Insurance company. The other two head belonged to another man, who carried insurance in the Huntertown Insurance company.

Temperature Going Up.
The highest temperature reached Tuesday was 89 degrees, which is equal to the record high mark for this year. Indications were given that this record might be broken Wednesday afternoon as the mercury kept rising steadily. Fair and continued warmer is the prediction for Thursday's weather program.

Strikes College Dome.
Lightning struck the large tower on the main building of Concordia college during the storm Tuesday afternoon, tearing a large hole on the east side of the dome. A large amount of roofing was also destroyed.

The tail of the rat is a most important appendage. It has more muscles than the human hand, being used as a hand, as a balancer and as a spring to aid in jumping.

Egypt was the center of the linen manufacture of antiquity. The first allusion to this fabric in the Bible is when Joseph, promoted to the dignity of ruler of the land of Egypt, was arrayed "in vestures of fine linen." (Genesis xli, 42).

CONVENTION OF IRISH STARTED IN CHILLY WAY

Conscription May Take Many Major League Baseball Stars

Robertson, Rousch and Others Are Near the Top in Drawings.

Major league baseball may suffer before the end of the present season as a result of the conscription law that will soon go into effect. Many of the top notches in the national pastime have found their numbers up among the top in the list of numbers drafted last week. The fact that the homes of the ball players are scattered all over the country makes it difficult to ascertain the standing of the players in the drawings, but nevertheless many of the major league stars have been notified that they are likely to be called as a part of the new army, and will be called into a training camp different from that used for spring training purposes.

One of the teams that was hit hardest by the drawings, according to reports, was Brooklyn. Pfeiffer, Cadore and Smith, three of the Robins' leading hurlers, were included in the first numbers.

Ray Schalk, premier catcher for the Chicago White Sox, was very near the top of the list in the drawings, as was Weaver, of the same team.

Eddie Rousch, leading batter of the National league, and star outfielder of the Cincinnati, may also be required to report for the new army before the close of the season, and Eller and Groh, of the same team, were also among the first ones drawn.

The New York Giants are almost sure to lose the services of Davy Robertson, one of the team's most consistent outfielders and best hitters. Senny Kauff, Peritt and Tesrau, of the same team, were also drawn, but their numbers may be far enough down to escape the first call.

Mitchell, of Detroit, whose home is in the Sardinia, Miss., district, was among the first drawn. The Boston Nationals may also lose the services of some of their star performers, among those drawn near the top of the list being Pitchers Neff, Ragan, Barnes and infielders Rawlings and Rice.

Jack Berry, manager of the Boston Red Sox, was also among the men whose numbers were drawn near the top of the list.

Just how many of the major league players can claim exemption is highly problematical. Many of them are married men and may be able to escape under that grounds. It is thought that few would be exempt for physical disability.

RAIN SPOILS CHIEFS' CHANCES FOR VICTORY

Two Double Headers Will Be Played in Next Two Days.

Rain, coming down in streams, in torrents, and by the bucketful, put the dampers on the game between the Chiefs and Richmond yesterday just when it seemed that the warriors were on their way to a victory over the Nuts in the opening game of the series. The moisture came in the third inning, when the home guard had two men on base with but one down. Handsome Harry Higbee was on the firing line and gave every indication of pulling through the nine innings in great shape.

Higbee started the third inning with a walk, Breaux beat out a bunt, and Siegfried sacrificed. With Smith up ready to chase the runners across the weatherman took a hand in the proceedings and all hands rushed to cover. The field was soon a sea of mud, and Umpa Johnson gave the sign to the drenched athletes to beat it to the club house.

Two games have been postponed between the Chiefs and Richmond, which means that in the next two days four games must be played. A double header was on the boards for today and another for tomorrow.

Vandagriff pulled a fine play during the course of the abbreviated game, going over back of second and nailing a grounder and throwing Gilbert out at first. Two runs were cut off by the play.

COMISKEY CONTRIBUTES AGAIN.

Chicago, July 25.—Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago Americans, made his fourth contribution to the American Red Cross yesterday, presenting a check for $67,024. This makes a total of $10,167.11 he has given since the baseball season started, representing 18 per cent of the receipts.

BANTAMS MAKE GREAT FIGHTERS IN SPORT, SO U. S. WANTS THEM FOR WAR.

to get into the service under army regulations, who declared they should be given a chance to serve their country and pointed out that many of the greatest fighters were small men.

It is not difficult to find under-sized men in athletics who have been winners in their fields of endeavor, little men who have outstripped their larger brothers.

Three years ago the Boston Braves won the National league championship and world series. The greatest pitcher of the outfit was Dick Rudolph, a short stubby fellow, who had been thought too small by McGraw and was not given a chance with the Giants. The shortstop of the club was Rabbit Maranville, one of the smallest men in baseball and one of the greatest infielders the game has produced.

Baseball has produced other great "little men." Heine Groh is diminutive, Eddie Cicotte is short and stubby and there are many others.

Boxing has produced many "little champions." Johnny Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, probably could win against any of the present-day bantams. Jack Dillon, the little giant, is one of the greatest little men to ever batter his way through the big heavyweight class. Joe Walcott, greatest of welterweights, was a little stubby fellow.

Elmer Oliphant, West Point's great all-around star, is much smaller than his teammates. Football has produced many great little men. Casey, of Harvard, is a little fellow; Hes Clark, the old Indiana halfback, was short and stubby.

Golf has given us Bob Jones, the boy wonder, and Walter J. Travis.

A number of our great distance runners have been little men. John Paul Jones and Norman Taber, two of the greatest millers, were little fellows.

You can store a lot of fight and stamina in a small body. Uncle Sam knows that no wonder he permits the organization of bantam regiments.

Star Gazer was left at the post in an Empire City race. Can't win races and star-gaze at the same time.

Having secured Johnny Evers and Frank Schulte the Phillies will soon be in the same class with Joe Cantillon's home for the aged in Minneapolis.

Fleider Jones has lived up to his reputation as a great manager. He has succeeded in beating Connie Mack out in the great cellar race.

There are three clubs left in the South Atlantic league. Fans won't have to worry about a post season series anyway.

Losing a ball in a golf course war garden is about as satisfactory as drawing a club to fill a heart flush.

CHIP BEATS HOWARD.

Providence, July 25.—George Chip, former middleweight champion, got the decision over Johnny Howard here last night. Chip had Howard groggy in the eleventh, but could not knock him out. The bout went twelve rounds.

DEATH BRINGS FORGIVENESS FOR LES DARCY FROM COUNTRYMEN

Australia has forgiven Les Darcy. Death has brought forgiveness to quash their indictment against the world's most unfortunate slacker and grant him a full pardon.

This is the word that comes from Snowy Baker, Australian boxing promoter, who has written friends here that a fund has been started to raise a monument to the memory of the former middleweight champion of the world, who paid so dearly for his mistakes.

"Australians regret deeply that death has cut short such a promising career," Baker wrote. "It is a real pity that between Jeff Smith and Jimmy Clabby the great Darcy, who had just learned of Darcy's death, paid its respects to his memory by standing with bare heads for ten seconds after the announcer had repeated the details of his death."

KILBANE AND LEONARD WILL MEET TONIGHT

Knockout Would Give Johnny Lightweight Title, According to Experts.

Philadelphia, July 25.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, and Benny Leonard, the lightweight title holder, will meet in a six round bout at Shibe park tonight for a purse of $20,000, each to receive one-half.

While a knockout, according to fight experts, would give Kilbane the lightweight title, Leonard could not win the featherweight championship because he cannot make 112 pounds ring-side.

ROWING SPORT IN BALANCE.

New York, July 25.—The future of amateur rowing will be a special feature for discussion at the annual convention of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen at the New York Athletic club next Saturday night. Officers will be elected for the coming year and prizes considered for the restoration of rowing at the earliest opportunity time.

The annual convention is usually held in conjunction with the championship regatta, which was to have been rowed at Lynn, Mass., next Friday and Saturday. The cancellation of the regatta, due to the war, made necessary the holding of the convention in this city.

OLDFIELD AND DEPALMA TO QUIT AFTER AUG. 4

Arrangements Complete for Staging Match Races at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 25.—Barney Oldfield, the veteran auto race pilot, and Ralph DePalma, the dark skinned speed son of Italy, will cancel their future engagements after racing here at the state fair grounds on August 4. It is said, on good authority, that the managers of these speed kings have been unable to bring them together on a basis that would work an advantage for all concerned. Both are as jealous of each other's reputation and popularity as two prima donnas and when one is shown a small advantage by the starter, referee, management or officials, there is a disruption in camp.

While many wiseheisers have been under the impression that the match contests between these well known drivers is pie and milk for the promoters and all said promoters have to do to collect the kale, this impression is a wrong one. True, if Barney and Ralph could be brought together for the one purpose of getting the money regardless of who wins, Bill Dickens and his backers would have an easy time, but both drivers are at daggers points at all times and it has been hinted by those on the inside that some mighty shady work has been pulled in the hazardous turns at various races. That both drivers are always trying to win is evidenced by the fast time they make in all contests.

SLING TENNIS POPULAR GAME AT THE FRONT

Sling tennis is one of the new games developed by the war. It has gained great popularity in European camps and behind the lines where it is impossible to secure properly leveled court surfaces on which to play regular tennis.

The court is regulation size and is marked the same as regulation courts. Either a soft ball, without resiliency or a bag filled with pebbles or beans is used. Regular racket frames are used strung with cord forming a pocket inside, somewhat resembling a lacrosse club.

The ball is tossed out of the racket with a swinging motion, the object being to keep it off the ground. If the ball is dropped it counts a fault against the player or side dropping it, the counting being the same as in tennis.

The game is said to have become very popular among trench payers' barred from their regular sport by local conditions.

The Cause of Constipation.
Constipation is usually due to a lack of water in the excrement. To effect a cure you must take more water in the system. It may be months, however, before this has any appreciable effect on the bowels, but when persisted in and fruit and vegetables containing water are eaten freely, the condition may be overcome. In the meantime use the mildest laxatives obtainable and take only enough to produce the desired effect. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the best. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect.—Advertisement.

This Actually Removes Superfluous Hair Roots Entirely New and Instantaneous Method.

By the introduction in this country of what is known as the "phelactine process," any woman can now rid herself completely of annoying superfluous hair or fuzz. The process is entirely new, different from all others, and far better because it actually removes the roots, as well as the surface hair. It is instantaneous, perfectly harmless, odorless and non-irritating.

Just get a stick of phelactine from your druggist, follow the simple directions, and see the hair roots come out, with your own eyes! No depilatory or electrical treatment can produce this result. The skin is left soft, smooth and hairless as a child's. Phelactine can be used with absolute safety—one could even eat it with impunity. If it doesn't do, exactly as claimed, you can have your money back without question.—Advertisement.

Foster, have issued a statement in which they pointed out that Hope hospital is now in a position to accept as many patients as the house will hold and that they will be cared for as the organization is no longer divided.

The statement follows:

"Although the management of Hope hospital has been receiving patients for several weeks in the new hospital building on West Lewis street, only a limited number could be cared for, owing to the fact that our organization was divided, but now all the nurses and all other employees together with the equipment formerly occupying the building, corner Barr and Washington streets, have been moved into the new building, giving us a complete organization, fully competent to care for all patients, the building will accommodate."

"In this new building, strictly fire-proof, centrally located and upon a quiet street, yet within half a block of street car lines, and but a few squares from the principal railway stations; with sun parlors; roof garden; elegantly furnished, large, commodious rooms, each provided with lavatory and telephone service; equipped with the best X-ray, laboratory and operating room appliances money can buy; with a corps of skilled nurses to wait upon patients and assist physicians and surgeons in the work of alleviating human suffering, Hope Hospital association will be able to reach its highest state of efficiency."

Hope hospital invites the support and patronage of all reputable physicians and surgeons, with special favors to none. By pursuing this policy it meets the favor of all. The management feels very sure that the medical men of Fort Wayne and vicinity will be pleased to have access to this modern hospital in which every courtesy will be extended to them."

MOTION PICTURES TO WAR AGAINST WASTE

State Council of Defense Announces the Plan of Big Campaign.

Indianapolis, July 25.—The State Council of Defense, through its publicity committee, George Ade, chairman, today issued the following:

A picture of hunger—a mother in despair, her children weak and wan hanging about her in mute appeal, a desolate waste about them all—in short, a tragic vision of war, soon will be thrown before the very eyes of a large portion of Indiana's population. It will be no idle fancy but an actual illustration of what the world war already has brought to our allies across the sea.

And then immediately following will be another representation—the antidote. The proper interpretation of the second means the presentation of the first; the translation of its message into deeds, the transformation of the other into chimeras.

The first picture displays the question, "Shall this be the answer to our waste—hunger?" The mother and children, whose husband and father in arms is no longer able to provide them with food, sit dumbly in want and distress. The country is barren and there is no relief in sight. The second picture is entitled "Food" and beneath it follows the six important suggestions that National Administration is endeavoring to drive home to the American housewife: 1, buy it with thought; 2, cook it with care; 3, serve just enough; 4, save what will keep; 5, eat what would spoil; 6, home-grown is best; don't waste it."

Indiana motion picture operators, headed by their state president, J. Rembusch, of Shelbyville, have offered their plants and facilities to the nation-wide campaign for the conservation of food and their offer to display without charge the two pictures described above has been accepted by Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Indiana representative of Mr. Hoover. These pictures and the message they convey are expected to reach hundreds of thousands who might otherwise not give the important subject the necessary attention and thought.

Mr. Rembusch has just returned from a conference in Chicago, called by William A. Brady, of New York, who heads the national organization that will co-operate with these special picture slides in the same general measure accorded the four-minute speaking campaign, the president's telephone, so called, and the distribution of public information by word of mouth, to movie patrons.

To Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather
This is the season when she who would have a lily-white complexion should turn her thoughts to mercurox wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectively overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, freckled, withered or coarsened cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It removes the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. It gives a new vitality to the complexion at any drugstore, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve the worst complexion. When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or evening, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half pint witch hazel. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It is fine for smoothing out wrinkles, even the deeper ones.—Advertisement.

To Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather
This is the season when she who would have a lily-white complexion should turn her thoughts to mercurox wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectively overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, freckled, withered or coarsened cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It removes the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. It gives a new vitality to the complexion at any drugstore, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve the worst complexion. When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or evening, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half pint witch hazel. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It is fine for smoothing out wrinkles, even the deeper ones.—Advertisement.

PRESIDENT BRYAN TOURING INDIANA

Head of State University is
Out to Say School is to Be Kept.

DR. BRYAN HERE THURSDAY.

The first stop in the week end missionary tour of Dr. William Lowe Bryan, president of Indiana university, will be in Fort Wayne. He will tell the needs of the university, especially its need for more pupils. He will be at the Anthony hotel all day Thursday. All present students of the university, all alumni and friends of the school who will call upon him. Dr. Bryan is anxious to organize a boosting club for the state school in Fort Wayne.

Bloomington, Ind., July 25.—To counteract the rumor to the effect that Indiana university and other higher educational institutions in the United States would not open this coming fall on account of the war, Dr. William Lowe Bryan, president of Indiana, will make a week-end trip to a number of northern Indiana cities and deliver the message of President Wilson, who in a telegram to Mr. Bryan some time ago regarding the closing of schools, declared "such a suspension would be very much against the public interest."

Dr. Bryan's first stop will be at Fort Wayne, where he will spend tomorrow afternoon and evening. He will be in South Bend Friday, at Gary Saturday morning and at Hammond in the afternoon. Through the Indiana alumni in these cities Ralph V. Sollitt, alumni secretary of the university, has arranged for a number of meetings and personal interviews for Dr. Bryan. The next number of the Indiana University News Letter, which will be issued from the university press next month, in addition to calling attention to the opening of the university September 18 next, will contain a number of interviews and statements from the leading men of the country, setting forth why the colleges and universities should be continued.

draft in addition to the 687,000 men called for during the present year. Gen. Crowder said today he had understood the draft machinery would not need to be employed again during the present year although it will be kept intact.

Estimates to cover expenses of the second increment have been submitted, it was pointed out, because all these expenditures must be made in advance of a call to have equipment and quarters ready, or the funds must be actually on hand when the call is made. With physical examinations actually in progress the record of the draft during the civil war becomes interesting. At that time 25.77 per cent of the men called were rejected for physical defects. There is no reason to expect any material increase in these figures. Until a ratio is worked out in practice in several typical communities and worked up into an average figure no definite forecast of the probable number of men who will pass through the draft machinery to obtain the 687,000 soldiers can be given.

most striking impressions upon his return to Berlin, the disappearance of children who have been sent to the country in thousands and the appearance of a new type of Berliner, a lank individual with skin hanging in folds which has supplanted the corpulent German. A few have lost more than fifteen pounds in weight, many more than thirty, but they are healthy and usually improved. Another feature is the disappearance of vegetables owing to the drought. Green groceries display only lemons and onions.

AN AUTO TRIP FOR DELEGATES

manifested in the convention grew larger Wednesday morning when it was announced that there were but few absentees. Officers state that all indications are that the general convention held this year in Fort Wayne will be the greatest and most successful gathering in the history of the national organization.

Brother Bass, a representative of the Boot and Shoe Makers' association, delivered an address at the Wednesday morning session, basing his thoughts on the great good that is accomplished by organization.

During the storm Tuesday afternoon the convention broke up for a few minutes. This was not directly due to the storm, however. The windows were all closed and the blinds were pulled down. One of the delegates while searching for the switch which governed the lights in the hall accidentally closed the circuit connecting with the electric piano.

The music was of the nature which stirs people's feet to action and as a result the piano was kept playing for some time while the delegates chose partners and danced to the tune of the music.

A great many of the visiting delegates were patronizing a certain business place in the city since arriving here. Wednesday morning they were told by representatives of the local Federation of Labor that the place was "unfair" to organized labor. Immediately all the delegates moved.

ing columns stretching to the horizon can plainly be observed from numerous vantage points. The retreat occasionally degenerated into a full rout, particularly under the influence of the Austro-German field guns which are abreast the infantry vanguards and dash forward to a hill-top from where they pour a demoralizing fire into the masses crowded in the roads. Additional quantities of munitions, provisions and six heavy guns were captured. Another report says that airplanes heavily bombed the station at Monastyrzyska and the new road for the Russian troops south of the point from which regular communication has been severed.

CRAYFISH HELP SWAT HIGH COST OF LIVING IN SUNNY LOUISIANA

By FREDERICK E. HAMLIN.
Staff Correspondence.

New Orleans, La., July 23.—While meat prices are soaring, while federal, state and city agricultural experts are excitedly waging a backyard garden campaign during the war, and while everyone is looking for a chance to swat the fellows responsible for the high cost of living, crayfish hunting in and around New Orleans is going merrily on.

Sundays thousands of working families of the Crescent City journey in wagons or afoot to the crayfish hunting grounds, bordering on the lakes or bays of picturesque Louisiana. By the baskets the crayfish are caught.

The crustacean is the cheapest product in the state—a basketful containing several hundred of them for a quarter!

Crayfish are just like those crawfish that abound in the creeks and rivers in the north and which are used solely for bait. That is, the crayfish are like the crawfish in looks but the taste must be different. No one eats the northern crawfish, but the crayfish is a delicious food down here. They're more of a miniature lobster than anything else.

They're washed and boiled and plenty of red pepper is added. Once you cultivate the appetite—and forget that crayfish aren't like those crawfish of the northern creeks—it's easy to eat fifty or more without stopping for breath!

They're caught in small nets, tied to poles, and in the center of the nets is bait—a piece of raw meat, tied securely.

Paris, July 25.—The Germans attacked this morning on the Aisne front at the Calonne plateau in an effort to recapture the positions from which they were driven out yesterday. The war office announces that the attack was repulsed. The French are consolidating their new positions.

WILL SHOOT DESERTERS.

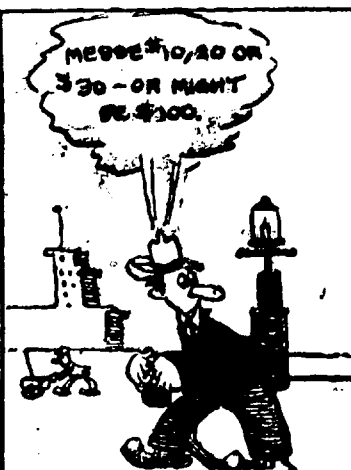

Petrograd, July 25.—Russian commissioners, who restored discipline in the seventh and eighth armies, making possible the recent Russian offensive in eastern Galicia, after witnessing the retreat of the Russians in the face of the Austro-German attack, have sent their reports to Premier Kerensky. They advise that "capital punishment should be meted out to those who refuse to risk their lives for their fatherland and freedom."

GOOD WEATHER PUTS CORN ON LOWER LEVEL

Shipments from Venezuela

Also Assist to Bear

the Price.

Chicago, July 25.—Favorable weather conditions and a general improvement in crop reports led to a noticeable increase in bearish sentiment today as to corn. Notice was taken of the fact that for the first time in history this country had received a shipment of corn from Venezuela with a promise of much more to come. Opening quotations, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1/4¢ lower at $1.53 1/2 for September and $1.49 1/4 for December, were followed by substantial declines all around.

Optimistic estimates of the spring crop yield in the Dakotas and Minnesota tended to send wheat prices downward. After opening 1 1/4¢ lower at $2.23 1/2 for September the market underwent a material additional sag.

Oats sympathized with the weakness of corn. Provisions were strengthened by assertions that the Belgian relief commission was inquiring for a liberal amount of lard and bacon.

WALL STREET TAKES AN ERRATIC COURSE

Rally That Follows Bearish
Opening Followed by Declines.

New York, July 25.—Professional selling of the active list was resumed at the beginning of today's operations, overnight developments at home and abroad seeming to favor the short interest. Substantial rallies occurred in the first half hour on general support.

The market drifted sideways during the balance of the morning, sales in the first hour totaling less than 150,000 shares. Most gains were offset by declines, leaving the list without definite trend. Some early offerings were said to represent liquidation by discouraged holders. United States Steel was active, rising 121 and 119 1/2. Rallies at noon suggested short coverings. Bonds were irregular.

MARTIA LEUNER FOR LAD.

South Bend, Ind., July 25.—A military funeral for an eleven year old boy took place here this afternoon when Stewart Angus was buried. The lad, killed last Sunday by a moving automobile truck, was a member of the Elks' big brother scouts, an organization composed of boys from nine to fourteen years. This organization had charge of the funeral. A fund of $500 is being collected by newboys. It will be turned over to the mother of young Angus.

KILLED BY A MOWER.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 25.—William Anderschick, aged 74, was killed near here late yesterday when he was thrown from a mowing machine and fatally cut by the blade. Anderschick died before help could reach him. He is survived by a widow and three children.

EIGHTY DIE IN MINE.

Halifax, N. S. W., July 25.—Eighty workmen were killed today in an explosion at No. 6 mine of the Dominion Coal company at New Waterford, C. B., according to advices received here from Sydney. Twelve bodies had been recovered at noon.

CAN NOW GET COAL.

South Bend, Ind., July 25.—Fears that there would be a coal shortage in South Bend next winter were dispelled this week when coal men accepted orders for immediate and future deliveries. Anthracite coal is bringing $11 a ton. If a person will pay the price he can get the fuel.

POOR MARKSMANSHIP.

Employees of the O. K. garage, back of 318 East Lieth street, were much startled when a bullet crashed through a window of the establishment Tuesday evening. The lead ball buried itself in the wall across the room from the window. Police are hunting the marksman.

ROANOKE WOMEN ARE TAUGHT CANNING ART

First of Series of Demonstrations is Held by Agent Loew.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Roanoke, Ind., July 25.—The first of the canning demonstrations to be held throughout the country by County Agent T. A. Loew was held Tuesday afternoon in the Roanoke high school about 125 interested women attended the meeting. An unusual amount of interest was manifested in Roanoke; many questions being asked and many of the women taking notes of the meeting. Peas, Beans, beets and cauliflower were put up by Prof. Loew, assisted by Miss Daisy Dean Williamson, supervisor of the domestic science department at Huntington college. The Roanoke women are to be congratulated on the success of the demonstration and the manner in which the equipment was provided. Prof. Loew pointed to this meeting as an example to the other communities of the county which are to have meetings later in the week. The process has many merits and the women of this vicinity are greatly interested in this method and if they do not make a success of it others need not try.

Roanoke Short Items.
There have been several meetings held recently at Beech Grove, Liberty and Ginger Hill school houses in the interest of a mutual independent telephone system. Large and enthusiastic crowds have been in attendance and papers were circulated for the sale of stock. Since the other proposition to consolidate with Majestic failed, some are still determined to have the new company and are working diligently for the completion of such. It seems a little difficult to get the rural people enough enthused to buy the stock and a line can not be built and equipped on hot air. It takes the very closest of cooperation of all to successfully conduct such an enterprise.
The station road east of town was the scene of an auto accident, caused by excessive speed. Clifford Dennis and Elmer Hamilton were going over the road with Cliff at the wheel and upon arriving at the bridge the speed was such that the turn could not be made and as a result the machine hit the railing of the bridge, tearing off a hub cap, damaging a fender and the top and breaking Elmer Hamilton's shoulder. It is a miracle they did not go into the river.
The Ladies and Pastor's union of the M. E. church will hold a parcel post sale and ice cream social on the church lawn Saturday evening.

Californians aver that no one has ever seen a jack rabbit drink. Those who have camped for days in the deserts in vicinities where the only water for miles around was to be found, and with rabbits everywhere, declare that never does one of the little fellows come to the springs to drink. Men have even gone so far as to examine the margins of waterholes in those districts, with never a track of the rabbit disclosed beyond where the grass grew.

GARRETT COUNCIL HAS BUSY SESSION

Contract for the Walsh Street Sewer is Let to Carl Weis, of Peru.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Garrett, Ind., July 25.—The contract for the Walsh street sewer was let to Carl Weis, of Peru, his bid being $22,881.90, which was $110.91 below the engineer's estimate. The main sewer will be built of 18-inch segment block, made by the Robinson Clay Product Co., of Akron. The lateral sewer will be made of 24-inch double strength pipe. Work will begin on this August 12. This sewer proposition has been hanging fire for several years, there being much opposition, and also considerable favorable comment regarding this proposed improvement. However, it will affect practically the entire town and especially the east part, where they were flooded every spring during the rainy season. The municipal engineer, Walter Saver, is compiling a list of the sidewalk delinquents and will have the same ready to present in a few weeks. A tree trimming campaign will also be waged here in a short time. The city council had their attention called to many places in the city where trees are not trimmed, and the city ordinance, which requires them to be trimmed a distance of ten feet from the ground. Many are overhanging the sidewalks so low that it is necessary to stoop to walk under them. All of these things are for the good of the city and it is hoped that the people will see it in that light. Health Officer Dr. F. Rodebaugh suggested to the council that a municipal hospital be built for the purpose of taking care of those who are ill with contagious disease and have no place to go. In many cases the patient of the disease could be checked entirely by this method. Owing to the fact that this is a railroad center and so many men are working here who have no homes but their boarding house, it was thought the municipal hospital a very good suggestion.

Garrett News.

The graduating class of the Garrett high school of 1914 held their annual reunion Sunday at the home of Samuel Cook. At noon they enjoyed a wonderful dinner, such as farmers only can serve. The afternoon was spent in reviewing the happy school days, taking pictures, enjoying music and discussing the national condition. At 4 o'clock Mrs. Cook served ice cream and cake. The class originally consisted of twenty-seven members, but only nine were able to attend the reunion. Those present were the Messrs. Mable Steckley, Ruth Lindorfer, Reba Jackson, Effie Gump, Earl Bass and the Messrs. Dale Green, Dean Bechtel and Arthur Gallatin. The banquet given by the Wesley Brotherhood of the Garrett Methodist church to the men's class of the Kendallville Methodist Sunday school proved a great social affair, there being 225 present, 130 of whom were from Kendallville. The ladies of the Willing Workers' class served the banquet. During the evening music was furnished by the Widener orchestra, after which short speeches were given by many of those present. The visiting brothers came in two special cars over the Fort Wayne and Northwestern. The banquet was given as the wagon in a contest on attendance, which the two schools put on and in which the Garrett brothers were the losers. The Red Cross sewing rooms of the Garrett branch opened yesterday in the rooms being fitted up over Better's stand. Mrs. John Thomson is in charge of the sewing work of the entire county. The first sewing to be done will be the making of pajamas, bed shirts and shoulder wraps. A knitting class is being organized also and they will knit socks. Everyone wishing to assist in this work can do so by notifying those in charge and they will then be told the day they are to sew. Several machines have been secured and tables also, and the rooms fitted up very comfortably.

FORT WAYNE'S FIRST CHAUTAUQUA CLOSES

Creators and His Famous Band Are Attractions on Final Day.

Creators' band played to the largest chautauqua audience under canvas in the history of that famous organization at the final entertainment of Fort Wayne's first chautauqua, Tuesday evening. The statement was made by one of the Redpath directors. Although many extra seats had been provided, they were all occupied and many were compelled to stand. In the afternoon the band was directed by Frank Del Giudice and in the evening by Creators himself. The evening program opened with one of Creators' compositions entitled "The Redpath March" and was followed by the "William Tell" overture. The program closed with "The Star Spangled Banner."

During the intermission Superintendent Bendell took occasion to thank the Fort Wayne public for its patronage. Pictures were taken of the mammoth audience which are to be used throughout the country by the Redpath company. Mr. Bendell endorsed the evening demonstrations being given this week by Miss Gail and also spoke a good word for the Boy Scout organization, members of which have assisted most faithfully during the chautauqua. Mention also was made of the state library association's request for up-to-date books and magazines and money to be used in providing a library for the soldier boys at Fort Benjamin Harrison.

At the conclusion of his remarks he asked all present favoring a chautauqua next year to stand and practically every person in the big tent stood.

There is little doubt but that another chautauqua will be given next summer by the University club. The success of the first effort has been beyond expectations.

HOW BRITISH FIGHT U-BOAT

Graphic Account of Work of Saving Patrol Boat from Torpedo.

DESTROYER HAS NARROW SQUEEZE

Presence of Submarine Has Effect to Draw Swarm of Enemy Craft.

A British Port on the Southeast Coast, Wednesday, June 27.—(By Mail.)—Just how a British destroyer acts when attacked by a submarine was unexpectedly demonstrated to an Associated Press correspondent while traveling on one of the modern oil-driven torpedo boat destroyers from England to France.

The correspondent had been taken aboard the destroyer for the purpose of observing British methods of combating the submarine menace when the boat was suddenly attacked by a submarine, a torpedo missing it by a scant six feet, thanks to the vigilance and quick action of the crew.

The destroyer was one of a certain number which were conveying in their usual manner, some large transports carrying British troops to France.

Diver Is Sighted. The group of ships was half way across the channel when suddenly one of the lookouts saw a pair of twin periscopes rise for a moment a few inches out of the water a half mile away. They were gone the next instant, but almost before they had gone came the shout: "Submarine on port bow," accompanied by a shrill call of warning from the destroyer's whistle and the dattering out of the flag which notified every other ship in the convoy of the enemy's presence.

On every ship things began to happen, more quickly than the telling. Guns were swung in the direction from which the periscopes had been seen, ready to speak if the periscope appeared again. Torpedo tubes likewise were swung into line and the numerous anti-submarine devices along deck were in the hands of their skilled crew members. But even while this was being done came the torpedo, clearly seen from the deck, its gleaming brass body glistening in the bright sunlight, its propellers sending it at express train speed straight toward the destroyer. Something was wrong with the mechanism of this particular torpedo for it should have traveled twelve or fifteen inches below the surface. Instead it came bounding along in plain sight, now and then leaping out of the water, like a flat stone made to skip over the surface.

Old Coxswain on the Job. Even thus, it might have found its target but for the presence of mind of the sixty-year-old coxswain. He had been first to sight the periscopes, and had rushed immediately to an emergency lever, whereby he instantly stopped the port engine, thus swinging the ship to starboard. The torpedo whizzed through the water six feet behind the stern of the destroyer, its gradually lessening speed as it sank into the swirl of the engines, indicating that its possibility for mischief was nearly done.

Except for the coxswain's action in twisting the ship from its course, the missile would apparently have made a square hit in the stern magazine.

Meanwhile the wireless was at work notifying the hundreds of patrols in all directions that the enemy was near. "We sighted a submarine on the port bow, just off buoy, 243 p. m. Torpedo passed just behind our stern, missing us. We are proceeding with our convoy," said the captain's message. It was received simultaneously ashore and afloat by a hundred vigilant wireless operators. The destroyer's captain, according to his orders, must not leave his convoy to seek out and attack the U-boat. Others would attend to that. Already they were gathering for the chase—trawlers, chasers, drifters, destroyers, even a dirigible alarship had caught the wireless call and with the quick turn of a screw, was swooping down to the pursuit.

No Precaution Neglected. The transports and destroyers, although fairly confident that the U-boat would scarcely show herself again, even for a pot shot, were nevertheless taking every precaution. Every ship was at full speed, all hatches were closed, constantly protecting their charges. The whole attack occupied barely seconds. Convoy and charges were out of range in a few minutes at the most. No one had time to be the slightest bit fussy, but movements of men and ships made with almost automatic precision and speed. The efficiency of the British naval man is the efficiency of clockwork. Every cog knows its place. There is no meddling, no clashing, no interference, but a confident rapid efficiency which somehow demands the use of the adjective "deadly."

Twenty minutes later the transports were safe in their port of destination and the destroyer convoy was off again, thirty miles an hour, down the coast, to its next appointment.

Meanwhile the business of seeking out the enemy was going on in the fleet of submarine hunters which had gathered around "—buoy." Just how the work was done and just what was the result, it is not permitted to tell.

BOARD NAMES NEW FORESTER

Adolph Jaenicke, of Colorado Springs, Succeeds Carl Getz.

ACTION TAKEN AT SPECIAL MEETING

The Retiring Superintendent Agrees to Help Successor Get Started.

From the city which nestles at the base of snow-crowned Pike's Peak comes the man who will be Fort Wayne's future park superintendent. Adolph Jaenicke, who has been employed in park work at Colorado Springs, Col., for several years, was engaged by the park board, in special session, Wednesday morning, to take the place of Carl Getz.

Resignation of Mr. Getz, who has served the city for six years, was officially accepted by the board at the special meeting. Mr. Getz will remain in the park service until he feels that his successor is prepared to take over the work. Jaenicke will start work at once. He is a trained forester as well as landscape and park director.

The delay in the action of the city council upon the request of the park board for an increase of Park Superintendent Getz's salary from $125 to $150 per month led the board and Mr. Getz to conclude at the park board meeting on last Monday that favorable action was not intended and preparations were at once made to meet the emergency. Mr. Getz expressed his willingness to remain long enough to assist the new superintendent in getting hold of the details of the work. Mr. Getz enters the employ of Schaaf & Hilgerman at a salary considerably in excess of the $150 per month at which he was willing to remain in the employ of the city.

The board has its present at its meeting. Mr. Jaenicke, with whom it had been in correspondence. Mr. Jaenicke has recently been employed in park work at Colorado Springs, which had been stopped by reason of the breaking out of the war. While he had been receiving a salary of $225 a month at Colorado Springs, being out of employment, he consented to take the position at the salary being paid Mr. Getz, but did not feel he could afford to do so if required to purchase the necessary automobile for his use. The board was inclined to furnish the automobile if the controller and city council would so arrange.

Educated in Berlin. Mr. Jaenicke is 52 years of age; is a German by birth and education, being a graduate of the University of Berlin. He came to this country 24 years ago; became an American citizen in 1902; has one son in the army of the United States and another engaged in the forestry department of our national government, while his two unmarried daughters are actively engaged in the Red Cross work at Colorado Springs, where they are at present residing. He has had a wide experience in landscape gardening and in forestry and park work. He was for a number of years in charge of the Missouri Botanical Gardens at St. Louis and also laid out the estate of Mr. Clarence H. Howard, of that city. Prior to that he was for ten years superintendent for John Lewis Childs, of Floral park, New York.

Mr. Jaenicke commenced his duties here Wednesday and will very shortly remove his family to Fort Wayne. The board is very hopeful it has made a wise selection and Mr. Getz, who has taken Mr. Jaenicke into the park system, is very confident he will make a complete success of the work.

Statement to Public. The following statement is made to the public by Carl J. Getz:

"The park commissioners, whom I have served for about six years, are in the best position to know the value of a man directly under their supervision and in vain attempted to pay for that position an amount commensurate with the service performed. The common council did not see fit to back up the officers, who by their recommendation. While park work, forestry and landscape architecture are my main pursuits, I did not feel, in justice to my family and myself, to continue at a big sacrifice in salary. The city of Fort Wayne is a big corporation and should fix her salaries sufficiently high to attract the best possible men to these executive positions."

"Fort Wayne is exceptionally fortunate in securing Adolph Jaenicke as their new city forester and park superintendent. He is exceptionally qualified and feels that Fort Wayne has succeeded."

GERMANS SUSTAIN SEVERE DEFEAT ON RUMANIAN FRONT

sians Do as Well.

GERMANS ASSAULT FRENCH AT AISNE

Petrograd, July 26.—Rumanian forces captured in Tuesday's and Wednesday's battle on the Rumanian front more than a thousand prisoners, says the official statement issued today by the Russian war department. The Rumanians also took 33 guns, 17 machine guns, 10 mine throwers and much military material.

On the same front, the statement says, the Russians also captured about a thousand prisoners and 24 guns.

BATTLE OF THE AISNE.

Paris, July 26.—German assaults were reopened last night along a front of about two miles on the Aisne front from a point east of Hurbelise to La Bovalle. The French official statement issued today says that at the cost of tremendous losses the Germans were able to penetrate into certain elements of the French first line trenches. North of Auberville in the Champagne the French penetrated the German trenches, the statement says, and inflicted heavy losses on the Germans. On the other parts of the Champagne front the artillery bombardment was intense. Fighting lasted all night, the French repelling every attack made by the Germans.

THE GERMAN ADVANCE.

Berlin, July 26.—(Via London.)—German troops have captured the Galician towns of Buszacz, Otynia and Delatyn, says the official statement issued today by the German war office. The Russians are also said to be retreating in the direction of Czernowitz, the capital of Bukovina.

BOMB EXPLODES IN ENTRANCE OF CHICAGO HOTEL

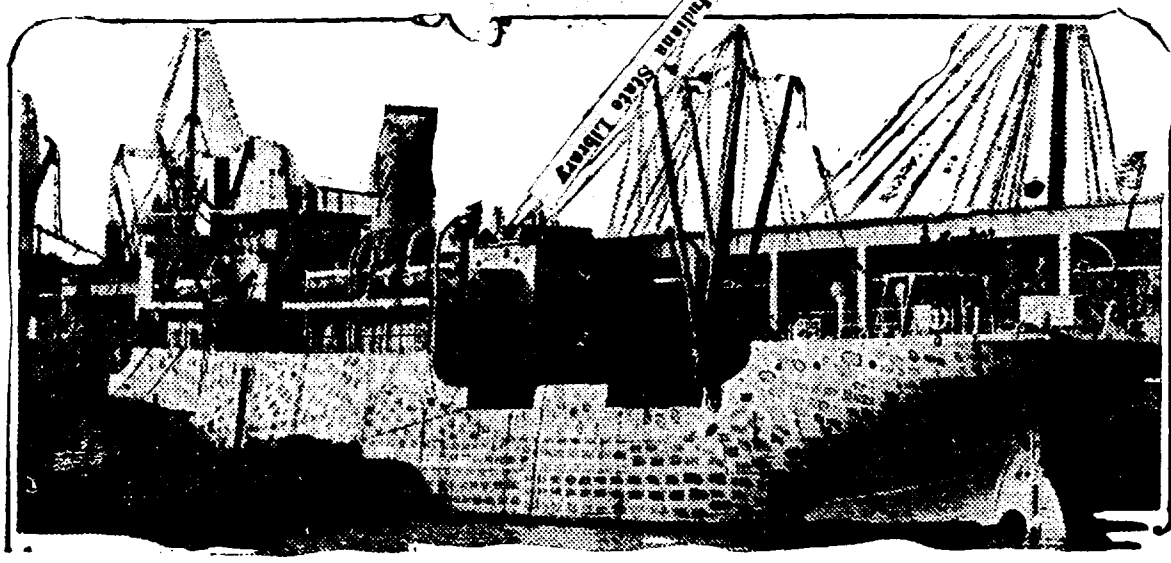

Chicago, July 26.—A bomb explosion occurred early today in the entrance to the Berlin room of the Bismarck hotel, in the downtown section, sending guests of the hotel and several neighboring hotels to the street in their night clothing. The damage to the building, it is estimated, will exceed $1,000, being confined chiefly to broken windows. It is believed by the police the explosion was the result of labor troubles which have been experienced by the management of the hotel for several weeks.

LOAN TO BRING NO GREAT BULK OF READY CASH

Washington, July 26.—Of the balance on the liberty loan on the three installments yet to be paid the government will receive only about 15 to 16 per cent, or approximately $315,000,000 to $325,000,000 in actual cash. The entire remainder already has been paid either in cash or upon treasury certificates of indebtedness which are payable in lieu of cash on the bonds. Of the $3,000,000,000 realized from the sale of the bonds $1,555,000,000 was paid in cash and certificates June 26, 1917, and $1,445,000,000 was

This sum, however, will not all be paid in cash as there are outstanding approximately $300,000,000 of certificates issued in anticipation of the bond issue, which may be converted into bonds. The consensus of opinion is that the entire outstanding issues of certificates will be converted into bonds, leaving an actual cash balance due the government of approximately $1,255,000,000. The balance due on the loan must be paid in three installments of 33 1/3 per cent July 30, 33 1/3 per cent August 15 and 33 1/3 per cent August 30.

SHIP DONS CHECKERBOARD COAT TO FOOL U-BOATS

The latest device to fool submarines is the checkerboard coat for ocean liners. The principle is based on reflected light from the moving water upon the sides of the ship, making the ship appear as part of the water. The ship here has a checkerboard coat from water level to the top of its smokestack.

Paris, July 26.—"There must be no confusing of today's Balkan conference with that proposed by Russia for the revision of war aims," says the Journal des Debats, discussing last night's session which opened yesterday. "If any question were to be under discussion, the United States, which would have much to say, would not have been content to send only an admiral to the deliberations," the newspaper adds. It hopes the eventualities will not make such a conference urgent in the eyes of the Russians to whom the enemy has spoken vaguely of peace without, however, saying a word about the future of the conquered Russian people.

THE FIRST FIELD CASUALTY IN THE PERSHING COLUMN

With the American Forces in France, Wednesday, July 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—The first field casualty among the American forces occurred today. A soldier became too inquisitive in regard to the construction of a live French bomb among the supplies brought to camp for training purposes.

He extracted the safety pin in some manner, and very soon thereafter a loud explosion occurred. Fortunately for the soldier the bomb did not contain a charge of full battle strength, or he would have been blown to pieces. As it was he escaped, with the loss of his right hand.

The government was thoroughly conscious of the duty before it, he said, and was determined to make a resolute stand against anything which threatened the ruin of the state.

The premier stated that re-establishment of the death penalty at the front was necessary in view of the fact that the government was faced with the alternative of sacrificing the army to a body of traitors and rewards or having recourse to the only possible means of inspiring terror.

The provisional government in complete accord with the army, took the burden of heavy responsibility, the premier explained, solely in order to save the lives of heroes who were perishing in the execution of their duty and to remove the reproach threatening the good name of Russia.

DEATH PENALTY NECESSARY.

EXPLOSION THAT KILLED 62 MEN A MINE MYSTERY

Sydney, B. C., July 26.—Officials of the Dominion Coal company today said they had been unable to determine the cause of the explosion in the company's mine at New Waterford yesterday, which caused the death of sixty-two men. Forty-six bodies had been located early today, of which thirty had been brought to the surface. Officials said there were no fires in the mine.

When the explosion occurred 260 men were underground. Rescue parties today were making as rapid investigations of the workings as possible, having in view the possibility that some of the men imprisoned might yet be saved. The explosion was 2,100 feet down the slope.

IRON DREAM SHATTERED

Germany Gives Up Vision of World Conquest It is Stated.

DIPLOMACY MUST WIN GOOD TERMS

German Prisoners of War Say Country Can Hold Out to the End.

London, July 12.—(By Mail).—Germany's dream of world conquest has been shattered and the belief among all classes there now is that the war must end through diplomacy rather than by a brilliant victory, according to the German prisoners in England.

A representative of the Associated Press, who has just returned after a visit to the large internment camp at Dorchester, where approximately 1,000 German prisoners are quartered, is enabled to present many interesting side lights on the German viewpoint as reported by men of all types, who have fought with the German forces on land and sea and in the air. These may be summarized as follows: Germany having held out thus far, she is prepared to hold out to the end.

The economic situation in Germany is not as bad as it has been reported, either by the belligerent or neutral press.

Contrary to reports there is no visible shortage of materials actually needed for the prosecution of the war. America's entry into the war will prolong rather than shorten it.

The United States being essentially a commercial nation, she cannot make her great man power felt soon enough to change the course of events.

U-Boats Doing Well.

The submarines are doing all that was expected of them. There is a surprising lack of concern manifested by the prisoners because of the United States being arrayed against their country. The correspondent was allowed to mingle with them freely, at times without any of the British officials in charge of the camp being present. A young German airman who was brought down recently off Dover, and who exhibited an iron cross, which he said he had won from many daring feats over the Anglo-French lines, seemed to express the view of the more intelligent class of prisoners by asserting they had been "so many declarations of war" against Germany when the United States came in that any more did not matter. Asked whether it would surprise the German people if the United States should actually place 1,000,000 men in France within a year, the airman smiled as one amused and replied:

"I would like to see them there first."

Believes Democracy Helped.

A tall, distinguished looking fellow, who had been a prisoner since the battle of the Marne, and who said he was formerly a lawyer in Bavaria, expressed the belief that the war would undoubtedly result in giving the German people a more democratic form of government. He doubted, however, that any attempt to remove the emperor would succeed. Germany, he said, was so accustomed to an imperial head that he did not think it would be advisable for her to follow Russia's example.

Others, including a former chemist, a government official from West Africa, and a young man who said he had been a professor of English in a German university, laughed heartily when the thought was suggested to them.

Three Prussian youths, who were taken prisoners by the British in the recent Mesines push, were believed to have represented the attitude of the peasant classes when they asserted that they did not even know America had entered the war. They were each 20 years old and had been called to the colors a year ago much against their will, they added. They had received nine months training prior to being sent to the front.

Perfect Discipline.

The remarkable training of the German is shown in the discipline maintained at the Dorchester prison camp. Although more than 20,000 prisoners have been interned there since the war began, only two have attempted to escape. Almost without exception the Germans say they are contented with their surroundings and are well treated.

The Germans do their own washing and cooking. Their rations consist of thirteen ounces of bread daily, six ounces of meat five days per week, three-quarters of an ounce of coffee daily, one ounce of sugar daily, two ounces of turnips daily, two ounces of beans or peas daily, two ounces of oatmeal daily, one ounce of jam daily, two ounces of cheese daily, ten ounces of fish two days per week, four ounces of rice daily, and meal, pepper and salt. There is a slight reduction of bread, cheese and meal in the rations of those who do not work.

Except for their confinement the German war prisoners are not much differently situated than any ordinary party of campers. Perhaps the one thing that impresses an American most is the spirit of sympathy which seems to exist between the British officials and their German charges, and which is shown not so much in their military salutations as by the care the one has taken not to contribute any more than is necessary to the discomfort of the other, while a prisoner himself smilingly accepts his lot as one infinitely better than that of his former comrades in arms.

CAN'T FOOL UNCLE SAM

Says Mayor Hosey in Regard to Reduction Plants for Garbage.

GOVERNMENT DOES NOT USE THEM

If They Were Paying Proposals They Would Be Installed.

"You can't fool Uncle Sam," is the reply which Mayor Hosey is giving to appeals being made by engineers of the country that cities like Fort Wayne install reduction plants for garbage.

"Uncle Sam knows all the facts at hand and yet the government is not installing reduction plants for its cantonments," the mayor points out. "At the great cities for soldier the government is putting up incinerator plants."

Mayor Hosey believes that if the reduction systems separating the many properties of garbage, were paying propositions the federal authorities would use them in connection with their cantonments, now being established. From the soldiers' food there comes as much grease as from the average home, the mayor thinks. If explosive chemicals make up such large proportions of food it would appear that Uncle Sam would hold reduction plants in connection with his soldier cities of special value, the mayor states.

In reply to the argument put up by Vladimir Bredlik and Louis C. Whiton, chemical engineers, who have sent communications to city officials, declaring that reduction plants save money, the mayor points to cities now having such plants.

Philadelphia, which has an elaborate system of garbage collection, pays a much higher rate for its garbage collection and destruction than does Fort Wayne. None of the cities having reduction plants are paying less, Mayor Hosey states.

The reduction plan for caring for garbage is growing less profitable to all concerned because of the care being taken in wasting foods. There is not much greasy meats being thrown away by housewives at this time. A goodly percent of the garbage now is the waste from garden vegetables. The waste from vegetables is of practically no value to reduce.

The market for the substances taken from garbage is a very uncertain affair, Mayor Hosey says he has learned. The price of chemicals taken from wasted food may be greatly lowered soon.

Bredlik and Whiton in their plea for a reduction plant state that much paper, about ten per cent of the garbage, is collected daily. Paper is growing in market value every day, the engineers point out. The men claim that Fort Wayne yields about 3,000 tons of garbage per year. On that basis they state that they have learned: "The total yield of product per year from 3,000 tons of garbage as collected is: 810,000 pounds of grease, 1,620 tons of tankage, 900 tons paper. The cost of installing such a plant, the engineers have figured, is $20,000, and such a plant can be built in six months' time. The cost to the city by the incineration method is 60 cents per ton. Under normal conditions it is 50 cents per ton. It costs from $4,500 to $5,400 a year to dispose of the city's garbage. By the reduction method, the engineers point out, large quantities of glycerine can be obtained which at this time is needed badly to manufacture explosives. Net returns from the proposed plant will be $9,835 per year. The return on the investment of $200,000 is figured to be 27.62 per cent." City officials are not seriously considering the building of a reduction plant here. The cost of $200,000 is much beyond the funds at hand at this time.

Ross McCulloch, second vice president of the First and Hamilton National bank, was bathing in Cedar lake at the Tri-Lake resort, Tuesday evening, an eight-foot water reptile came darting at him and singling him out endeavored to wrap itself around him. THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1917.

ILLINOIS, O, ILLINOIS!

A Chicago newspaper of conservative opinion and good repute takes its stand in the waiting-place and lifts the voice of agony for that Illinois must be one time after another put to shame before the country. The precise pretext and occasion for this is the silly speech made in the senate of the United States a few days ago by Hon. James Hamilton Lewis, senior member of that body from Illinois. The Honorable Ham, at the admitted behest of certain German-American constituents in Chicago, whence he hails, had undertaken to construe the salutatory of the new German chancellor as not merely opening the way but actually proffering this nation an invitation to peace. Taking into solemn if not prayerful consideration many things—not excluding the new chancellor's speech itself—the Honorable Ham's remarks were rather stunning. It is not to be wondered that the Chicago newspaper was pained, shocked and provoked to outcry.

This newspaper in question is puzzled to understand what Illinois has done to deserve a consistent misrepresentation in Washington—what the state of Lincoln and Grant and other great national figures whose deeds have shed an imperishable renown on the commonwealth, has come to be afflicted with in her civic insides that such things must be. It is a pertinent question and it issues from many a mind outside Illinois and we doubt not from more than a few within her boundaries. Besides the Hon. Jim Ham there is also his colleague, Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, whose devotedness to Illinois has been in the upper branch of the American congress during his brief and not specially effulgent career within its cool and cloistered aisle to play standpat politics, to seek the apotheosis of reaction and to strive against the administration at no matter what sacrifice of Americanism. Along with these there then is brought that very eminent kaiserist, Hon. James R. Mann, of Chicago, republican floor leader in the house at Washington, who began early in the great war abroad to apply himself with astonishing superserviceability to the honor and glory of William Hohenzollern and not a whit has abated his ardor or mended his posture since the said William became the declared enemy of the United States of America, most recently, indeed, having outdone himself in that wise. And as if all this were not enough load for one state to tote and not enough countenace for one state to invite, there rises to bad eminence in the shamed and indignant view of all the land Big Bill, mayor of the great metropolis of the west and the most brazen, flagrant and defiant scornor of his country to be raked up between Kennedunk and the Golden Gate.

It truly is a sad lot, an untoward fate, a disgraceful criminalization to which Illinois has come. There is no saying whence or why, but Illinois—there she stands, pilloried, branded and outcast, according to good opinion that is good because it is of and from Illinois. No state must put up with the kind of representation that Illinois suffers to bring her under the moral flagellations of all truly American America. No commonwealth need abide by its political indecencies longer than the period that spans election intervals.

As a certain persistent but veracious announcement hath it, "there's a reason." We know not what the reason may be, but it's one of the verities of history that Illinois long ago got herself dubbed the Sucker State and the moniker still sticks.

WILL COME BACK, PERHAPS.

America's financial bit for the first year of the war is now estimated as likely to climb to about fifteen billions of dollars. Senator Smoot, who is one of the standpat finger sharps, puts the probability up to seventeen billions. It doesn't matter. Three or four billions more or less will cut no ice in July nor make hay in January.

Modern war costs money prodigiously and we are going into this war to bring back what we've started to get. We design to take complete hostage for democracy in the world, and that will be worth all it may cost, whether it be fifteen billions or fifty billions. There is and there can be no stepping aside from the chosen pathway, no turning back from the high-set goal. We must finish what we have begun or submit ourselves to be finished in Prussian militarism's most approved fashion. Nothing would so tickle the Prussian war caste and the Hohenzollern dynasty—not to speak of the unspeakable Turk, the mercenary Bulgarian or the now humbled and properly bankrupted Austro-Hungarian—as to have America as quarry at the death, with the kaiser and the crown prince and von Hindenburg and von Tirpitz to lift our devoted brush. We've got the wealth and the trade and the business prospects and some joblots of islands here and there in some of the seven seas that would make bully naval outposts, and a Panama canal that would be a good asset in trade or a war settlement. You can bet your little bale of Liberty Loan bonds that we'll do like the tidy Mr. Britling or we'll be done for as thoroughly as Belgium—perhaps not of similar kind or in the same degree as an example of wreckage—but we'll be paying fines for this and indemnities for that and islands for the other and kow-towing to German customs overseas in every port of collection in our remaining possessions after the articles of peace have been signed and deposited in the imperial safe in Berlin.

So we've got to go through with it, cost what it may. The cost estimates for this bit of democracy's work look larger when you stare the immediate figures in their big fat faces than they will actually turn out to be in the final settlement of accounts. All the money we are spending is not money converted into cannon smoke, army sustenance and the like. Already a billion and a half of our expenditures may be seen in loans to our allies—near a billion to Great Britain, two or three hundred millions to France, some to Italy, some to Russia and some elsewhere in mere dribs that appear in the account books as fractional hundred millions to little nations with busted exchequers and some with no exchequers at all. Much of this will come back after many days and some of it never. If we win, in good time Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy will be able to pay off. If we don't win, we shall bother a deal less about what we've got coming than what we've got to see going into the greedy maw of a ruthless conqueror.

Our fifteen or fifty billions will be multiplied by two and perhaps by three before we get the score settled if we don't dictate the settlement. It will be much cheaper to see it clear through and make the world safe for democracy and give our allies a chance to recoup and pay us what they're borrowing.

ADMITTED TO SERVICE.

The press of the country seems pretty generally to approve the dictum of the war department that osteopathic practitioners may serve in the war with the armies. At a time when the needs of the military forces of this country have not been adequately provided with medical officers and contingents and the cry of our allies for reinforcement in that department of the service has grown poignant, it will be admitted that there are both good sense and humane consideration in opening the way to thousands of osteopaths to serve usefully in the war. It would seem that in a crisis of the present sort all who can qualify by the usual standards of the service should be given an opportunity to serve and if the osteopaths must be tried by the same tests of examination that are applied to the other medical men, against those who do pass it no reason can stand or objection prevail. America is likely to need all the service it can procure in the medical branches, both in the home cantonments as well as in the camps and on the lines abroad, not to speak of the answer which should be made to the call of the allies for medical service.

The prices are uniform. Pitch in and help yourself to your taste. There will not be one hundred thousand American soldiers in France by the end of the year. The national guards will be across the water ahead of any other contingents of regulars than those now already over. The regulars will be shipped just as soon as the ships can be got to ship them. And so on and so forth, to great length and in a variety almost infinite. All this stuff comes from Washington, where hot weather dullness has put the correspondents on sharp edge to do some scooping.

Just what the Russian collapse has cost the allies can be figured out with some degree of proximate certainty, but what it has cost Russia will have to be developed. Any way it is looked at, by any measure with which it is scaled, it is a bad and woeful business. Just a case of too much democracy in the first dose,

DRAFTED!

My luck—it still holds: I was drawn in the hundred That came out at first. But it makes me plumb glad When I think how all the folks worried and wondered, And expected that I would cut up, and act bad— (I'd always been looked on as stick-up and tony, A whale of a coward, a little bit phony!) There were others I guess, though, that yielded the most far, Hunting exemptions, excuses, and things— Sam Smith, he swore that he was deaf as a post; one Declared he was weakly because of bee stings; I Yes, and Archie Brown wept till his face looked all funny! And swore if they forced him to go they'd spend money! And Levering had an old mother and sister Dependent on him for their daily brown bread; And Connor asserted an ancient sun-bliester Had done many things to his turbulent head; Also Bruce had designs that were plain matrimony, And Weeks had no cause, but he kicked like a pony! Tom Clupp had had eyes, and must always wear glasses— The kind that you hook to the bridge of your nose, Just so they'll drop off at each girle that passes; And Marshall, he claimed he was minus two toes— Oh, some were too fat and some were too bony, And some had had freckles like Sump MacElhony! Bill Roberts—you know Bill?—had excuses aplenty— One leg was some crooked, a wart on his ear; Ned Simpkins had mumps once before he was twenty; And Jaffray—well, Jaffray, with him 'twas plain skeer; While Adkins, who married Rose Murphy-Malony Thought likely his wife might demand alimony! So—a hundred or more of my boldest male cringes, Who always told strangers how useless I was, Found exemptions as common as Latin ecclitics, In their urgent desire to evade the draft laws— (In their speed they forgot they had once called me tony, And also a coward, and likewise some phony!)

WAR WORK FOR MOTHER AND CHILD IN FRANCE EXAMPLE FOR AMERICA

By REM A. JOHNSTON.

Americans who are interested in the "betterment ideas" insofar as they affect mother and child would do well to emulate to some degree the French, who have been grappling desperately with the problem of decreasing birth-rate since the war began. Even before the war one of the most serious problems France had to face was the steady decline in births, and the idea was forced home by the knowledge that in forty-four years Germany had gained 25,000,000 new citizens and France only 3,000,000. In 1899 Germany had 1,980,304 births; France only 847,627. After the war began the question loomed so large on the French horizon, and the figures supplied by the bureau of statistics were so disquieting, that France found it necessary to get down to fundamentals in the task of saving babies and caring for their mothers. In any case it was a wonderful thing to find women who were ready to perform their part in building the race.

Realizing that legislative measures looking toward the regulation of those tendencies which combine to decrease birth-rate are slow in their operation, France has devoted her attention to the immediate phase of the question and is now concerning herself with caring for the children just born or who will be born in the near future.

In spite of manifest difficulties several organizations whose sole work is to look after the mother and child have been organized, and have so systematized their functions that they have done a great good although their sphere of operation has been decidedly handicapped.

The activities of one of the largest of these societies may be classified for examination and comparison under the following heads:

First—"Help Given to Expectant Mothers." At the beginning of the war six homes were opened. Up to January 1 about 3,500 maternity cases were dealt with.

Second—"Help Given to Young Children." Children of from one to three and a half years of age when taken in groups of ten or fifteen and cared for during the temporary absence of their mother. These institutions, called "Les Petites Foyers Maternels," five in all, now contain ninety-seven cots. The entire expense of this branch of work is borne by the society.

Third—"Convalescent Homes for Mothers." These were devised for mothers who were leaving the maternity wards, and proved very helpful. Two resident certified midwives were attached to each building, and the supervision of the scheme was placed in the hands of Prof. Bonnaire. The up-keep of this institution is now partially met by the state.

Fourth—"Homes for Working Mothers." In war time many women have to return to work as soon as possible. Although recognizing the need for rest and recuperation after the severe trials of motherhood the commonwealth also recognized the need of great sacrifice even on the part of mothers, and arrangements were made for getting them sufficiently restored in health to carry on the work they were doing before they became expectant.

It is to be hoped that the essentials of the system will be put into law without undue delay. Broad considerations of statesmanship, fairness to the individual fighter and to his dependents, proper thought for the effectual running of the governmental machine, unite to advocate the utter abolition of personal pensions and the substitution of sensible insurance imprudently bulwarked against the political lust of congressmen and of their constituents.

FRENCH OR GERMAN?

Some time in the not distant future thousands of young men will be returning from the French battle-fields firmly imbued with the idea that French, rather than German, should be the preferred language in American schools and that the metric system is the proper table of measurement.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

The cool wave of this morning was welcome.

D. N. Foster is traveling with the G. A. R. soldiers' home committee now investigating the various sites offered for the location of the institution.

The equipment of the Newspaper Union is being removed from the old location on Columbia street to the handsome new headquarters on Clinton street.

The fire commissioners are in session this afternoon for the purpose of taking steps to build the new engine houses, one on West Washington street and the other on East Main street. Plans will be ordered at once.

Borne down by rushing waters of the St. Joe river, near the Rudisill dam, George W. Fisher, the popular financier of the Fort Wayne Furniture works, was swiftly carried to his death while out on a fishing excursion yesterday afternoon.

A few evenings ago as Miss Florence Akers was attempting to mount her wheel she slipped on the wet pavement and fell, striking her head against the curb. The young lady suffered concussion, but fortunately she has recovered from the shock.

Andrew Bowersock has leased the store room on Harrison street, formerly occupied by Charles Bowman's saw works, where he intends to place a fine stock of groceries. His will be the ninth grocery within a block of each other in that vicinity and still there is room for more.

R. T. McDonald refuses to serve as a member of the republican county central committee, to which he was elected some time ago from the Fifth ward, and will tender his resignation at the next meeting of the committee. The republicans of this county and state are having a good many fights in their ranks.

The improvements added to the West Wayne street residence of Louis Fox will not only make it one of the finest on the street, but will place it in the rank of most elegant modern homes to be found in the city. The grounds are now being improved with cement sidewalks, etc., and will add greatly to the beauty of the place.

COLLEGE BOYS PREPARING TO DO THEIR BIT IN WAR; COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY BATTALION DRILLING

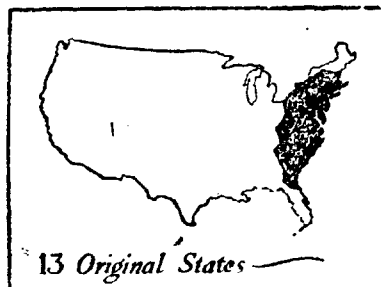

The Columbia university battalion is in camp "somewhere in the United States" getting a thorough training in military tactics in practice. Photo shows them charging to capture a trench. Uncle Harry Tells How the United States Grew

"Uncle Harry," said Joe as they settled themselves comfortably in their chairs for the evening talk, "may I have the floor?"
"Certainly, Joe," said Uncle Harry. "Ladies and gentlemen, please come to order. Mr. Joe will now address you," and Joe proceeded:
"Uncle Harry, you have told us that the original thirteen colonies covered a small part of the present United States. Now we are a big nation reaching from the Great Lakes and Canada to the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande.
"I would like to know how we got all this territory. We haven't had many wars. I don't suppose anybody gave us any and all the maps show the United States as big as it is now. You told us one evening about Alaska and we know about the original thirteen colonies. But how about the rest of it? As Jimmy said in his recitation last week, 'I pause for a reply.'"
"Bravo," Joe," said Uncle Harry, as he clapped his hands and both the others joined him in the applause. "You are quite an orator. Your question is an interesting one and I will try to answer it. You know the original thirteen colonies either touched or were very near the Atlantic ocean. West of these colonies or states as they were afterwards called a great stretch of wilderness extended to the Mississippi river inhabited only by Indians and a few courageous white settlers.

"Out of this vast wilderness twelve of our most populous and wealthy states have been formed. In 1803 we bought the Louisiana Purchase from France. Napoleon clearly saw that he could not defend this territory from the English while engaged in his great European conflicts and so sold us this immense area of 875,000 square miles for $15,000,000. This gave us a needed frontage on the Gulf of Mexico which we had not had before. In 1819 we bought Florida from Spain for some what over $5,000,000. In 1845 Texas became a part of the United States by annexation.
"I know an old gentleman who has lived all his life in Texas and has seen four changes of national flag in that state; first the Mexican flag, then the Texan flag, then the American flag, then the flag of the southern confederacy, and again the Star-Spangled Banner."
"My!" said Helen, "he must have been an old man."
"He was," said Uncle Harry. "Texas seceded from Mexico in 1835, about eighty-one years ago. Well, to resume our story, in 1846 Oregon territory came to us by treaty with Great Britain and the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho were later organized in that area. Of course, we had a great row with Mexico over the annexation of Texas and this led to the Mexican war and in the peace settlement in 1848 we took over the territory now included in the states of California, Utah, Arizona and Nevada and a part of New Mexico and paid the Mexicans $15,000,000 for it. Then in 1850 we bought the rest of New Mexico from Texas and that portion of Colorado not included in the Oregon purchase for $10,000,000. In 1853 we bought the Gadsden tract on the Mexican boundary for $10,000,000. I have told you about the purchase of Alaska for $7,200,000 and this was considered at the time such a bad bargain that it was called 'Seward's Folly,' as William H. Seward was secretary of state at that time and made the purchase.

13 Original States

United States To-day

"I think, Joe, this answers your question, as it covers what we call the Continental United States. Of course you know that in 1898 we took over the peaceful annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, formerly called the Sandwich Islands, and as a result of the Spanish war we got Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippine Islands and a year later we got Samoa and more islands in the Philippine group. I was looking over an old atlas that my father used when he was a school boy and a large part of the land acquired in the Mexican session and the Texas purchase was marked 'the great American desert and barren as the great Sahara or Arabian deserts. Thanks to American pluck and energy, however, and a wise use of irrigation and proper methods of agriculture, the desert has been made to fulfill the scriptural statement: 'The desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose.'"

"I tell you, children, we have a great country. I have seen wonders in its development since I was a boy and your children will see greater wonders as time goes on. We must all of us, everyone, do our whole duty in the matter of patriotic devotion to our country, and if we do, in the words of our great President Lincoln, the government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

"Joe opened the evening with a speech and I seem to have closed it with another, but the subject well deserves all we can do both in speech and action. Let us all be proud that we are Americans. Good night, all, I must hurry home."

Editor's Note—Uncle Harry will be glad to answer inquiries, either in this column or by mail, provided letters are signed with the full name and address of the persons writing. The correspondents' names will not appear in the articles.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Hoagland, Ind., July 26.—The chautauqua, which closed Sunday evening, proved a success in every way. The first day, Friday, was patriotic day. Dr. A. H. Harnly gave the opening address. The Trouvere quartet which furnished the music, were well trained young men and their quartet and solo work were excellent. The second day, Saturday, Judge James A. Collins lectured on "Pulling Against the Tide." He has presided over the city court of Indianapolis and also over the criminal court of Marion county. The Ladell Concert company, consisting of Miss Marietta Ladell, reader; Miss Hazel Brandenburg, violinist, and Miss Ruth Thom, soloist and pianist, were all talented in their work. The third day, Sunday, Dr. George Bible lectured. In the evening Victor's Venetian Troubadours gave a grand double concert, under the leadership of Signor De Carli. Their numbers were all classical and of high character.

FORT WAYNE MAN IS GIVEN A PROMOTION

Thos. J. Foley Made Vice President of the Illinois Central.

Bulletins issued yesterday by C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad company, announced several changes, one affecting a former Fort Wayne man, Thomas J. Foley, who has received a promotion to a high office with that company. The changes were made and announced at a meeting of the board of directors of the Illinois Central in New York yesterday.

T. J. Foley was elected vice president, in charge of operation, maintenance and construction, with headquarters at Chicago, succeeding W. L. Park, assigned to other duties. E. A. Clift was appointed general manager to succeed Mr. Foley, the change becoming effective August 1.

Mr. Foley is fifty years old and started his railway career as a messenger in the Pennsylvania company's telegraph office in Fort Wayne, thirty-nine years ago, when he was eleven years old. He was an apt scholar and soon advanced to relief telegraph operator, thence through a series of promotions until he became assistant to the chief telegraph operator. When the Pennsylvania assumed control of the B. & O. and called G. L. Potter to the management of the system, the latter called Mr. Foley and made him general manager of the Wheeling division of the system, with headquarters at Wheeling, W. Va. From the B. & O. Mr. Foley went to the Union Pacific and from that company to the Illinois Central in 1910. His position on the latter was of a minor character in the start, but the management was not slow in recognizing worth and Mr. Foley began to advance and the rise was rapid. During the many years he was away from Fort Wayne Mr. Foley retained a residence here, the new directory showing that he resided at 335 West Jefferson street, near the city. Miss Celia Foley, principal of the miner street school, and Miss Julia Foley. No railway man was ever more popular with his associates, and in the community in which he resided, for that matter than Tom Foley and the several notices concerning his rise in railway circles that have appeared in the Sentinel have always been read with interest. There are hundreds of men in the employ of the Pennsylvania in Fort Wayne today who "worked with" him and when occasion is given, they always proudly refer to that fact.

STRUCHEN ON OPERATING TABLE.

Ernest Struchen, for a number of years employed in the Pennsylvania shops, submitted today to the fourth surgical operation for relief from an affection of the side, the result of an accident. The operation is being performed at the Lutheran hospital, and his brother, E. Struchen, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, laid off in order that he might be at the hospital while it is being performed. Considerable interest centers in the result, because of the vast number of friends of the sick man.

Draftsman H. H. Niswander is at his duties again in the cost department of the Pennsylvania shops, after visiting awhile at South Bend.

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made cantharox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some cantharox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will give delight to you. Advertisement.

C. N. BRENTLINGER IS COMING TO FT. WAYNE

Succeeds W. L. Wilt as Chief Clerk of Motive Power on Pennsylvania.

T. W. Demarest, superintendent of motive power of the Pennsylvania northwest system, has called C. N. Brentlinger to the office of chief clerk of the department to succeed W. L. Wilt, promoted to motive power account clerk, with offices at Pittsburgh, July 1. Mr. Brentlinger's appointment becomes effective Aug. 1. He has been serving as chief clerk of the central system motive power department, with headquarters in Toledo, and the duties of that office often brought him to Fort Wayne and in touch with the officials and men in the clerical department of the Pennsylvania. He is quite popular with those men and news that he is to come here and preside over them is pleasing to all. Mr. Brentlinger has been in railway work since Oct. 27, 1902, when he became a clerk in the office of the C. & C. at Mount Vernon, O. When the central motive power department was established five or six years ago Mr. Brentlinger, who had been working in the capacity of car clerk on the C. & C., was summoned to Toledo and June 16, 1914, F. F. Smith, Jr., who was then superintendent of motive power of the central system, placed him at the head of the clerical department. Mr. Brentlinger will arrive in the city the latter part of the week or early next week to assume the duties of his new office. They are not greatly different from his present work, though of more importance because of the greater territory and increased number of men over which he will have jurisdiction.

CONVENTION AT VALPARAISO.

Old Vets of the Pennsy Will Gather There in October.

The committee on arrangements for the 1917 convention of the Veteran Employees' association of the Pennsylvania, which is composed of C. E. McKeehan, chairman, J. H. Hobrock, R. O. Diem and O. R. Marsh, went to Valparaiso yesterday to talk with the business men and the university management about the annual meeting of the association. As a result of the visit the committee has decided to recommend to the executive board that the convention be held at the university on Saturday, October 6, and there is no doubt about the board ratifying the recommendation. The university management and the residents of Valparaiso generally promise to do all they can to make the convention a success and the committee will arrange a more elaborate program than was that governing the meeting at the same place a year ago. The committee has had trouble in deciding upon a convention city because of the large number who will attend it and the facilities for entertaining and feeding the members. There will be, it is said, about 500 members at the next meeting of the association.

The only changes being from apprentice to journeyman pipefitter and then gang and finally foreman and assistant foreman. THRESHING HELD UP.

Much of Huntington County Wheat Not Ripened.

Huntington, Ind., July 26.—Refusal of Huntington dealers to buy a load of wheat that was threshed before it had ripened and dried in the shock sufficiently caused a hurried postponement of threshing dates in the county when it became known. Farmers, attracted by an upturn of 15 cents in the price of wheat on the Huntington market, were planning to thresh as soon as the machines could start. Mrs. David Snider, a widow, sent sixty-one bushels of wheat to town, expecting to receive $2.20 a bushel for it. Grain dealers refused the wheat because it had been threshed too green. R. A. Brown, of the Huntington Mill company, says the wheat is worth nothing for milling, and other dealers say it is worthless for anything but chicken feed. In her hurry to get the top price Mrs. Snider had the wheat threshed before it had stood in the shocks a week. The wheat cutting in Huntington county is more than three weeks late, and there is still some to cut. Most wheat was cut green, and needed hot, dry weather after it was shocked, to put it in shape for threshing. The refusal of the grain dealers was due to the effect of the ruling of the department of agriculture as to the grading of wheat. All dealers have provided themselves with sieves and testing apparatus, and all wheat will be graded before it is settled for. The crop generally is of good quality.

PALESTINE MEN SEE OMEN.

Say That Invading Bees Means U. S. Victory.

Warsaw, Ind., July 26.—The people of Palestine, Kiscusko county, have been discussing pro and con, the possible significance of a singular circumstance occurring at that place about two weeks ago.

Joseph Hartman, who lives by the old Palestine mill, has several hives of bees. At the time mentioned a strange swarm from afar, invading the premises, attacked one of the hives. A battle, terrible in its nature, resulted, at the conclusion of which bees dead in layers were found at the bottom of the hive and the invaders had conquered.

Now comes the speculative ones and see in the circumstances ominous forebodings of the American occupation of Germany.

KOENIG IN JAIL.

Bluffton, Ind., July 26.—Jacob Koenig, former local blacksmith, who has recently been in Flint, Mich., returned to Bluffton and created a disturbance at the home of his wife and as the result is a prisoner in the county jail. It is not the first time that Koenig has caused trouble for his wife and he has made threats against the lives of members of the family. Since April he has not contributed anything toward the support of his family and because of his wild threats they have feared his return. Mrs. Koenig has a divorce suit pending, telling of the abuse heaped upon her.

STATES IN RACE TO FILL THEIR QUOTAS

RIVALS FOR HONOR OF BEING FIRST TO COMPLETE A DRAFT

Work of Calling Men for Physical Examination Has Already Begun in Several Regions.

WORKING OUT NEW DETAILS OF ARMY

Washington, July 25.—The race between states for the honor to be first to fill their quotas under the selective draft law was on today in earnest. Calling up men for physical examination began this morning in several regions.

Meanwhile details of the machinery for actually calling the accepted men into service and sending them to their mobilization camps are being worked out.

Provost Marshal General Crowder has already ruled that the claim of the army attaches to any registered man as soon as the local selection board has posted him as accepted.

From that time on, unless exempted, he will be subject to military law and the articles of war. Failure to appear when called will bring the military forces of the provost marshal general in search of the missing man and he will be tried for any violation of regulations before a court martial. This ruling was necessary in order to enforce the prompt compliance of all accepted men with the army orders. It appears probable that the accepted men, when the mobilization order for the new army is given, will be first assembled in their selection board headquarters.

Two Rules Govern.
The distribution between the sixteen cantons, Gen. Crowder said today, would be governed by two rules—first, the section of the law requiring that they be assigned, as far as practicable, to duty with troops from their own state, and second, the location of the nearest cantonment to reduce the transportation problem as much as possible. No information has reached General Crowder indicating that there will be any need to summon a second

ERRORS IN THE ARMY DRAWINGS ARE CORRECTED

Washington, July 25.—Master lists of army conscriptions drawing were in the hands of a number of local exemption boards today and were on their way to other boards more distant from Washington, where they were mailed yesterday. Each local board, on receipt of the lists, is requested to summon for examination twice as many men as the actual quota for the district. Thus work of selecting men to make up the first half million contingent of the national army hereafter is in the hands of civilians composing the exemption boards. Examination of the master list showed only a few errors in the unofficial list compiled by the press during the rush hours of the drawing and telegraphed to all parts of the country.

Variations discovered in the unofficial lists previously announced are as follows:

Berlin Writer Says It is

Reichstag's Bid for Peace
Offer Based on These Considerations.

Copenhagen, July 25.—A remarkably frank article by the Berlin correspondent of the National Tidende, passed by the foreign office, censorship, discusses the seamy side of the submarine campaign and the effect it has upon neutrals.

It is generally recognized, he says, that the longer the campaign continues the fewer friends Germany will have after the war.

This consideration together with the thoughts of many billions which another six months war would cost, were the two factors which contributed to bringing a majority of the reichstag into line for a bid for peace.

The correspondent says it is now generally admitted that the effect of the campaign has been misestimated not regarding the amount of tonnage sunk, but as to the time required to make its effects felt in England. The German people are still convinced that it will succeed ultimately if given time and they themselves are able to hold out.

Disregarding German happenings as accidental, the correspondent says there can be no question of a big offensive

BOWL THAT HELD DRAFT PELLETS HISTORIC RELIC

Philadelphia, Pa., July 25.—The glass bowl from which the 10,500 capsules containing the national army numbers were drawn in Washington last Friday is to be added to the historical collections at Independence hall. While the "draft bowl" is not the property of the government but belongs to Charles R. Morris, a clerk in Provost Marshal General Crowder's office, a telegram was received by Mayor Smith yesterday from General Crowder that Mr. Morris is "willing to donate the bowl for deposit in Independence hall."

WAR BILL FOR YEAR WILL REACH TOTAL OF 17,000,000,000

Washington, July 25.—America's war bill for the fiscal year will total $17,000,000,000, Senator Smoot told the senate today, instead of the $14,226,000,000 he estimated yesterday, the increase resulting from an additional $500,000,000 for the shipping board, $2,000,000,000 for the allies and $150,000,000 deficit in the executive departments.

MOONEY JURY ON THE THIRD DAY OF A DEADLOCK

San Francisco, July 25.—The jury which has the case of Rena Mooney before it, accused of murder in connection with Preparedness Day bomb explosion here July 22, 1916, began its third day of deliberation today. Mrs. Mooney is charged with causing the death of Mrs. Myrtle Irene Van Loo, one of the ten victims of the blast, which also injured forty others. Her trial began May 21 and the jury retired for deliberation last Monday.

Judge Emmett Sewel declined to indicate when he would discharge the jury in case the disagreement continues.

Lady Warriors Behave Hand-

Petrograd, July 25.—The Russian women's battalion raised by the twice-wounded girl officer, Vera Butchkareff, was in action on the front at Krevo yesterday for the first time.

They are reported to have been successful, although the battalion suffered some losses, the extent of which is not yet known. The Novoe Vremya correspondent at the front reports that the women behaved in an exemplary way, gaining the respect of the men soldiers.

The "Command of Death" is the official title of the battalion raised by Mme. Butchkareff. It recently left for the front, after a review by M. Kerensky. Most of the recruits are from the higher educational academies or secondary schools, with a few peasants, factory girls and servants. Some married women were accepted but none who had children. Most of them are between 18 and 25 years old, of good physique. They wear their hair short or have their heads entirely shaved. The girls carry the cavalry carbine, which is five pounds lighter than the regular army rifle. They were drilled under the instruction of a male sergeant of the Kolynsky regiment.

PERSHING GOES TO FRONT WITH HERO OF MARNE

Paris, July 25.—General Pershing, accompanied by General Joffre, yesterday visited the French front and reviewed incidentally one of the most famous battalions of French chassours, which figured in the 14th of July review in Paris. General Pershing expressed high admiration for the dash and smartness of the men.

WANTS TO QUIT, BUT PRESIDENT HOLDS HIM FAST

Washington, July 25.—Announcement was made today at the white house that Theodore Brent, vice chairman of the shipping board, had tendered his resignation, but that it had not been accepted by President Wilson.

In his letter Mr. Brent said he agreed with Mr. Denman, the resigned chairman of the board, in his controversy with Major General Goethals, who up until yesterday was the manager of the emergency fleet corporation.

Advance of Austro-German Forces in Galicia Continues and Kaiser

TERRIFIC CANNONADING IN THE WEST

Berlin, July 25.—The advance of the Austro-German forces in eastern Galicia continues uninterrupted, the war office announces. Tarnopol has been captured and the Germans are nearing Buczacz.

Emperor William watched the Germans repulse a Russian attack from the plain of the Sereth between Tarnopol and Trembowla, it is officially announced.

Russian troops, taking the offensive south of the Carpathians, penetrated the Austro-German lines. They were brought to a standstill, the war office reports, at the German protective position west of the point of attack.

VIOLENT CANNONADING.

Berlin, July 25.—Via London.—Continuation of exceptionally violent artillery fighting in Flanders is reported in today's official account of operations on the western front.

The statement also reports the capture of Stanislaw and Nadvorna. Heavy artillery fighting is in progress.

CANADA WILL BE ALLOWED TO GET CASH OVER HERE

Washington, July 25.—Secretary McAdoo has notified Sir Thomas White, Canadian minister of finance, that the United States government has no objection to Canada's obtaining a short term credit of $100,000,000 from private sources in the American money market.

Mr. McAdoo declined to state whether arrangements for the loan had been made. It is understood, however, that negotiations have been proceeding for some time between Sir Thomas White and New York bankers and have reached the point where further progress awaited the consent of the American government.

GERMAN WRITER IN READY AGREEMENT WITH LLOYD GEORGE

Copenhagen, July 25.—Premier Lloyd-George's skepticism regarding Chancellor Michaelis' good faith, and his doubts whether the chancellor's reply to the reichstag resolution really means what it pretends to mean, received unexpected justification and corroboration from German sources in the growing frankness of criticism which the defunct Zukunft might envy.

It was declared yesterday that Chancellor Michaelis' speech was ambiguous and open to two interpretations, which Lloyd-George mentioned. It was added that the policy of silence of political aims inaugurated by ex-Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and continued by Herr Michaelis had laid the Germany policy open to that dubious reputation which Lloyd George criticized. His picture of German parliamentarism under the formula of Herr Michaelis may be distorted, so it was declared, but it contains enough truth to serve as a warning to the German people.

The Berlin Tagblatt reprints the full text of Lloyd George's reply to the German chancellor, explaining that this is advisable because of remarkable errors of distortion and omission in the sense desired by the government in its summaries of earlier campaigns which were supplied by the semi-official Wolf news bureau. The Kreuz Zeitung slightly modified, but did not revoke statements about the government's war policy. No official declaration was made.

LABOR CAMP HAS A FLAG DEMONSTRATION

The Occupants Erect a Nice Pole and Unfurl American Flag.

Although the occupants of the laborers' camp at the East car shops of the Pennsylvania are supposed to be of a roving character, remaining only a short time in one place, they are not lacking in patriotic sentiments. This was demonstrated yesterday morning, when the men at the "camp" erected a fifty-five-foot pole and unfurled thereon an 8x12 flag. F. E. Gallagher, the labor agent with jurisdiction over the camp, acted as master of ceremonies, but the money with which the flag and appurtenances were purchased was contributed by the seventy-five men in the camp. And not one refused to contribute. This camp was established by the Pennsylvania some months ago to meet the emergency then very much against the successful operation of the shops and yards. Laborers were scarce and when a lot of new ones were secured it was found a difficult matter to lodge and feed them. The "labor camp" was devised and put in operation to meet the exigencies of the occasion and it is still doing good work and being maintained under the management of F. E. Gallagher.

MANY SALESMEN REMAIN.

G. E. Business Hustlers Still in the City.

The two days' convention, known as the "specialists' meeting," of the men from everywhere in this country and Canada engaged in the commercial department of the Fort Wayne branch of the General Electric works, closed yesterday afternoon, but the greater portion of the delegation remained over today to confer with Mr. Hunting, Mr. Serva and Mr. Behan on business matters and will not get out of the city until tonight. A few of the men left for their respective homes last night, following the banquet at the C-unity club. That was one of the jolliest and most happy gatherings at that clubhouse, according to the guests. One of them, a salesman in eastern territory, probably voiced the sentiments of the crowd when he said: "The banquet was the best I ever attended; we were regaled with good music, witty speeches and edibles of variety and excellence of preparation. Everybody was in good humor and appeared to enjoy himself. It rained hard a part of the time, but that didn't dampen the ardor or spirits of the hosts nor of the guests." Much good in a business way is expected to follow the meeting, which was the second held in the past six years.

WOMEN DOING GOOD WORK.

Nickel Plate Continues to Employ More of Them.

"We are pleased with the success of our efforts to fill vacant places in the shop and offices with women," said one of the officials of the Nickel Plate yesterday. "We have been lucky in getting good women and have not had trouble with any of them," the official said. The additions to the force during the past week included a female stenographer in the office of General Foreman M. J. Meldrum and another woman in the office of Yardmaster Charles Lyons. In the yard office Miss Caroline Vroman began work this week. Miss Charlotte Fagg has been clerking there for over two weeks and is doing well, Mr. Lyon said. The Nickel Plate now employs in Fort Wayne about twelve women in positions that six months ago were open only to men. At other places there are many more women working for the Nickel Plate as street crossing watchers, messengers and clerks in the offices and at light work in the shops.

TAKES A PROFESSORSHIP.

David H. Munson Quits Position at Pennsy Shops.

A letter to General Foreman W. R. Madara, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, brought the resignation this morning of David H. Munson, assistant to Charles Balzer, the storekeeper at the shops. Mr. Munson, who is a graduate of the Ellsworth college, at Iowa Falls, Iowa, has been offered and has accepted a professorship in the College of Oregon. The professor has been employed at the Pennsylvania shops about two months and, being of a modest and retiring turn of mind, did not tell his associates there that he was a college professor, nor even that he was a collegiate graduate.

PLAN FOR LABOR DAY PARADE.

In the parade on Labor Day the various unions will be divided into three sections, each with a marshal and headed by a band. This was the decision arrived at by the executive board, which held a meeting in Dehm's hall last night. It was also decided that the line would form on the Market Place at 9 o'clock, march to Holman Street, west to Calhoun, south to Brackridge, west to Fairfield avenue, north to Washington and east to Harrison, where the sections will divide and proceed in opposite directions to avoid congestion. The Labor Day committee will be composed of C. M. Phelps, president; C. W. Miller, secretary; E. T. Drew, vice president; C. Maxwell, financial secretary; C. Hahn, treasurer; J. J. Perry, P. R. Bell, Mrs. L. Redding, C. Effinger, A. Overly, R. Bostick, J. Lambrook, C. Beecher, J. Wolf, J. Cordes and A. C. Burger, committee members.

BOWSER ANNUAL OUTING.

As promised last winter, in an address to the employees by President Bowser, of S. P. Bowser & Company, the annual excursion to Winona will be given as usual. And it will probably be distinguished by being the only big event of its kind given this summer. Negotiations, which have been in progress for two or three weeks, resulted in arrangements for two twelve-car trains on Saturday, August 4, to carry the Bowser people to Winona. They will leave the city at 7:15 and 8 o'clock respectively. In the morning, and returning, will leave the park at 5 and 6 o'clock in the evening, standard time. It is expected there will be at least 1,200 people in the excursion party.

BALDWIN HAS NEW AUTO.

A new Studebaker Six, seven-passenger car, is contributing vastly to the pleasures of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Baldwin and daughter, Miss Hazel Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin is the road foreman of engines of the Chicago division of the Nickel Plate and he is taking his annual two weeks' vacation. The auto was delivered the day he started upon the vacation and since has been at nearly all the cities within a radius of 150 miles of Fort Wayne. One day last week it carried the family to Detroit and yesterday it carried them to Toledo. The vacation term ends with this week.

DISPATCHERS RESUME WORK.

S. M. Taylor and W. R. Richardson, Pennsylvania train dispatchers, who were off duty on a vacation, resumed work this morning after a two weeks' absence. The pleasure of Mr. Richardson's vacation was obliterated by the death of Mrs. Richardson's father, John F. Meyers, an old and highly respected resident of McCutcheon, Ohio, about eleven miles out from Upper Sandusky. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson spent the greater part of the time they were away from home at McCutcheon, attending the funeral of her father in the meantime.

DOING A WINTER BUSINESS.

"Doing a winter time business," is the way a Nickel Plate official replied to an inquiry concerning traffic yesterday. "The business of today is better than it ever was in mid-summer before and considering the fact that the tonnage is greater for the number of cars handled than formerly, I might add that it is perfectly satisfactory," continued the official. The business is about up to the capacity of the equipment and the crews to handle it and a trainman or engineer has to offer pretty good reasons for wanting to lay off before one is granted.

INSPECTING THE L. A. & S.

General Superintendent W. C. Downing and Motive Power Superintendent T. W. Demarest, of the Pennsylvania, are today making an inspection trip over the Lorain, Akron and Southern road, which was recently acquired jointly by the Pennsylvania and the Erie and is being operated jointly by those companies. This is a line built during the past six or eight years by the late Joseph Ramsey, Jr., once the president and general manager of the Wabash.

PUT MOTORS OUT OF COMMISSION.

Lightning, which put the southeastern part of the city in darkness last night, also put the motors at the plant of S. P. Bowser & Company out of commission. As a result business was suspended at 4 o'clock and the employees were sent home. Repairs were made and the big plant is again in operation.

ENGINE IN TURNABLE PIT.

The Pennsylvania wreck crew was called out last night to remove a locomotive from the turntable pit at the Pennsylvania round house. The accident tied up business awhile at the round house, but the damage was not serious.

Nickel Plate Engineer H. A. Rodahever, who had been working steady for some weeks, has obtained a leave of absence of a few days and gone to the lake.

The new turntable has arrived at the Bellevue round house of the Nickel Plate and will be installed soon. It is twenty-five feet longer than the turntable now in use at that place.

The General Electric has placed cement steps leading from the Fairfield avenue sidewalks, just south of the Pennsylvania tracks, to the walk that goes to the factory through the east entrance.

The member of the family of Engineer R. E. Helsel who was sick with diphtheria has recovered, quarantine has been lifted from the premises and Mr. Helsel reported for work yesterday.

The small motor team and the warehouse team of the G. E. Sunset league will play ball at Foster park tomorrow evening and the apparatus and apprentice teams will play at Lawton park. Rain interfered with the game between the ice machines and office teams last night.

In the examinations for apprenticeship at the Pennsylvania shops, Joseph Graybill, a graduate last June of the Fort Wayne high school, broke the record in the grading. He correctly answered every question and was rated at 100 per cent. There were four other applicants and each made a good showing. They of the party will be assigned apprenticeships and enter upon the work soon.

The pressure is high over the Atlantic states and off the north Pacific coast; it is low over the Canadian northwest and loops of this depression reach southward over the Rockies. During the last 24 hours local showers occurred in north-central sections to the eastward of the Mississippi, in the Gulf states, in the upper Missouri valley, and in the Rocky mountain region. Except in a few localities, the temperature changes of the last 24 hours have been unimportant. Nearly seasonal temperatures prevail in far western districts, but from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast the weather is generally warmer than the normal.

Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it is swollen and the passage of air is blocked. This causes the drum to be pulled out of position and the hearing is lost. Unless the inflammation is removed, the tube will remain closed. Deafness is the result. Columbia City Short Items.
Two runaways occurred Monday evening, the first one happening when the team of Wallace Schuh, west of the city, broke and ran west on Van Buren street while the driver was making purchases in the business district. The team demolished a flower tub "traffic police," and finally stopped four blocks west, when one horse fell down and the other animal reared a badly gashed leg from the heavy wagon tongue. While Asa Foster, owner of a mule team, was viewing the results of the first runaway, his team, hitched to a dray, suddenly bolted north and ran around the block before stopping. A little damage was done to the dray, but the mules escaped uninjured.

BLAMES RULERS FOR WAR.

Winona Speaker Says Government Must Be Touched.

Warsaw, Ind., July 25.—The Rev. James S. Martin, superintendent of the National Reform association, in addressing the Christian citizenship institute at Winona Lake Monday evening on the subject of "Christianity and the War," said the world war is the result of a quarrel among nations and not among individuals, and in order to get at the bottom of the trouble something must be done to affect the governments themselves. The war is the result of some great national sin, he said, and "before we can have real and lasting peace that is certain to stand all the tests of the present day, we must have justice and righteousness among nations as well as among individuals—a standard of Christianity applied to nations as we have a standard of Christianity applying to individuals."

Dr. A. Pohlman, of Philadelphia, in speaking on the "Optimistic Outlook Following the War," pointed to the possibility that a new type of philanthropy may be one of the outgrowths of the conflict.

BOARD IS REORGANIZED.

Decatur, Ind., July 25.—By an order received by Sheriff Ed Green, president of the local conscription board, this morning, organization of the board becomes necessary. According to the order, no person can serve on a conscription board who is between 21 and 31 years old, within age of conscription. The order therefore effects Will Hammell, the board's secretary, and he will have to give place to some other person. General Crowder asked that Sheriff Green send in at once the name of some one to take his place. The work done by the board is all gratis, there having been made no provision for compensation. Mr. Hammell has been a faithful member of the body and has done a large amount of work already, but there is much new man will find plenty to keep him busy in the future. Charles K. Christen has been recommended to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Hammell's retirement and will doubtless receive the appointment.

ARMY FUND IS RAISED.

Decatur, Ind., July 25.—Decatur Catholics have done themselves proud in raising their apportionment of the one million dollar war fund, to be amount. Yesterday canvassers went to the south part of the county, to Geneva and Jefferson townships, where the church has a congregation, to get what the members there have for the funds.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1917.

BREAKING UP A FIGHT.

It is no reflection upon General Goethals, it is no aspersion of Chairman Denman that they have been put under moral necessity to withdraw themselves from the government's ship-building enterprise. The two simply could not bring their opinions into agreement and of course could not work together. Mr. Denman, chairman of the government ship-building board, had one set of ideas that he refused to abandon; General Goethals, general manager of the emergency fleet corporation, had another set of ideas that he would not put aside.

The war between these two had been proceeding for weeks. Meanwhile, the work of building ships to meet the most critical need of America and her allies was lagging. Something had to be done and President Wilson did it. He contrived in a way that evidently leaves neither of these two big men under any sacrifice of dignity or compromise of position. He got them to resign. Edwin N. Hurley, lately chairman of the federal trade commission, succeeds Chairman Denman on the ship-building board and Rear Admiral Washington Lee Capps takes the place of General Goethals as general manager of the emergency fleet corporation. In the appointment of these two men General Goethals gains at least the triumph of his purpose, for both of them favor the construction of steel ships, the point upon which Goethals and Denman could not agree.

It appears that there was readiness on the part of Mr. Denman and General Goethals to step aside in the interest of harmony and make way for men who could bring the two branches of the government ship-building enterprise into co-ordinated efficiency, though it is not to be doubted that President Wilson was prepared to effect the change with little regard for feelings if that had been necessary. His patience has had a severe trial in the stubborn contentiousness of the two men whose conflict of judgment so long has held up the ship-building program and the country had begun to feel an irritation that soon must have broken forth in a demand upon the president to put an end to the row by getting men who could agree on what was to be done and set about doing it.

Mr. Hurley is a business man of great experience and executive capacities of the highest order, while Admiral Capps, long chief naval constructor, brings to his position a practical experience and technical equipment that are invaluable qualifications at this time. It seems to be a happy solution of a most vexatious and critical problem. The expectation now is that there will be no loss of time or waste of energy in disputing of what to do, but the marshaling of every resource of the government and the country to meet the U-boat destruction of shipping with new tonnage. The utmost that can be accomplished will be little enough until the allies have found effectual answer to the German terror.

IT IS AN INSTINCT.

It is instinctive in an American congress to conceive that unless it meddle and mess in the affair no war can be successfully prosecuted by the government.

It is recognized, of course, that republican senators of the Penrose and Lodge stripe and representatives of the Jim Mann kidney, are moved by partisan considerations of the most sordid kind when they propose measures for hampering and in some cases for hamstringing the government.

But not all the proposals for hog-tieing the government in the conduct of the war emanate from republicans, nor is all the support that such measures as general and miscellaneous obtain a republican support. Democrats no less than republicans in congress get the itch to interfere and meddle and botch and probe and investigate so soon as the country sets foot into war. That, praise be, has not been frequently, but often enough to prove the rule.

This great conflict in which America is now plunged will not be permitted to go far before congress will be wanting to create all sorts of committees and commissions for this and that and the other. There will be two war boards of strategy—one of some ninety-six members in one end of the capitol and another of some four hundred and thirty-five members in the opposite end. Occasionally there will be a highly co-ordinated joint-effort of the two when things are most critical and the capacity for mischief is greatest.

Just now there are signs that the congressional strategists and saviors are of a mind to get busy and have their meddlesomeness all organized and ready for first opportunity, or early meddling whether there be any opportunity or not. It will come in due time and there will be a vast energy and most inconsequent diligence messing around, getting in the way, obstructing army plans and naval movements and wanting to know this and demanding to be told that and insisting that this, that and the other be explained and calling on all the executive departments at once to inform the house or the senate or the two of them together all the whys, whys and wherefores of the conduct of the war.

It will be a fine medley—that is, will be if the people of the United States do not rise up in anger and put a stop to it as they ought to. Congress is the people's branch of the government and must be preserved, even if all else should go by the board, but the people ought to insist that their branch of the government refrain if possible from going crazy with the heat as soon as the nation enters upon the terrible task of fighting for its life.

There can be no entire escape from nonsense of the kind, but if it could be kept at the minimum the risks of combat, the cost in treasure, the sacrifice of blood would be less and the chances of a great and glowing victory would be much improved.

NOT SHIRKING OR PIKING.

The government will ask congress for five more billions with which to carry on the war.

That looks not only like serious business, but full realization of and preparation for serious business, not a mere moral and financial participation in the conflict.

The armies are to be increased to about one and three-quarters of a million men. There are to be one million of them in France by spring. Airplanes in flocks not to be numbered are to take command of the skies and keep it. Allies are to be financed to all possible effect. Shipping made indisputably second on the seas.

It will take billions and more billions before the "world is made safe for democracy," and now upon rich America falls the burden of providing these astounding bulks of golden treasure.

The dispatches a few days ago stated that in a recent conference Emperor William had expressed something like contempt for America's part in the war. In his salutatory new chancellor, Dr. Michaelis, spoke of the United States as of negligible importance. Inspired newspapers of the German empire seek to minimize to their readers the weight of this country as a factor in the war.

Three years ago the same contempt was exhibited toward Great Britain as a war factor. The time since then has served to make Great Britain second only to Germany herself as a military power. What will a similar three years accomplish in the transformation of the United States, with its greater resources, its vaster wealth, its more numerous millions and its recognized genius for organization and for creation?

When Senator Penrose wants to know how public money is spent for war or any other public purpose, Senator Penrose is sincere. Senator Penrose is political boss in a state where public money is accounted for to the last penny and where public scandals and graft outrages are things unheard of. Senator Penrose will have things right in Washington if he is given half a chance. He is one of very finest little watchdogs of the treasury and he was trained where education is perfect.

The government opines that about five billions will be needed to finance the next period of the war. About that, we should guess, after scanning some of the debit accounts of the nations over the seas that have been in the game for some time and know how to play it.

The new chancellor of the German empire tells the reichstag that America is an almost negligible quantity in the war. Perhaps. But America is doing and will do quite a lot to feed the folks Germany's U-boat campaign is designed to starve. Is that negligible?

President Wilson made it easy for everybody involved in the shipping board unpleasantness to get out with no spots on his record. That was considerate, but a few days more and it would not have been possible.

Long the road, and rough the way, my torn feet trod to thee!

All to bring the message to this waiting self of me!

III
Long, long the years I have spent, all wrapp'd in sleep and emptiness,
Chasing firefly hopes that came in bog and fen and moor;

IV
Here a light, and there a light;
Empty gladness, toneless night,
Hints of disobedience that acted like a lure!

V
Came the Word of Life at last (came my Soul all glorious)—
Failed me nothing of the Dream that brought, my own to me!
Heaven opened at the sound,
Rang its great bells all around,
For the Son had heard the Voice that made the worlds to be!

VI
Heard the Son His Father's Voice, and answered from the zones that slept,
"Many, many were the steps I mounted, cold and bare;
Here are all thy little ones—
I thy Son, and these thy Sons—
Lo! I bring the faltering Thou gavest to my care!"

Unlimited Patience Toward Russia Needed to Aid That Country to Reach the Goal

(BY REM. A. JOHNSTON.)

Just now most Americans are feeling very much like stoning the bear that walks sometimes like a man. And, in a measure, their doubt and their enmity are things to be expected. In view of Russia's drunken babbling from side to side under the stupendous load the allies have placed upon her.

But we ought to remember that Russia's training has been a severe and bitter one. Where we have had education she has had damning ignorance and repression; where we have had favorable opportunities to progress Russia has had autocratic and drastic restraint along all lines that make for essential growth in respect to national life. It is useless to compare the American people with the Russians because there is no point of comparison save that of common humanity.

Russia's sudden sweep into democracy, pleased and terrified the world. In its final analysis that revolt from autocracy savored more of anarchy than of revolution for principle, because the people as a whole were only an unreasoning mass of disordered units untrained by education to understand what was happening to them. That their leaders could whip them into anything like shape in a few weeks or months—that democracy, used as it is to performing miracles in the hearts of people, could transform a nation of serfs into a highly civilized and ideal "community settlement," was a dream for dreamers, not for men.

It was inevitable that what has happened should happen. And we Americans are not true to our own ideals if we fail to treat these helpless friends of ours with anything other than the most decided consideration.

Probably this Russian line, which we hear so much about, may have to be stiffened by a few hundred thousand Americans, who know what democracy is and who are willing to fight for it in any part of the world.

But even if this worst comes to the worst, we should season our admonitions with mercy and with understanding.

Gen. Hugh L. Scott has only the warmest praise for the Russian troops in action under Austrian fire. And his opinion ought to go far toward reducing the doubts of those of us who have no correct means of determining the status of the Russian soldier. The great trouble, as it seems, is not the lack of courage—it is simply that the Russians do not fully understand what is at stake, what they are fighting for, and why they should fight. Anarchy among the troops is a natural concomitant with revolution. Even the American troops, during the great revolt which gave us freedom, were at times troubled by inharmonious action on the parts of whole companies and regiments.

It must be wise for us then to hope for the best from Russia without expecting too much or even asking more than we should ask of a much smaller nation. If the fortunes of war go against us in respect to what we have wished from our great ally, it will be no harder to do what is laid upon us to do.

At all events we know that patience must be our watchword, and we may remember that whatever we sow must be returned to us by the wheel of fate and time. It is impossible to sacrifice for another without benefiting in the long run by this sacrifice. "The song is to the singer and returns most to him."

IF YOU WOULD FLY HERE'S SOMETHING TO KEEP IN ORDER

By BASIL M. MANLY.

"Good morning! How are your semi-circular canals?"

You may not know you have any, but if you have any idea of flying for Uncle Sam, you will shortly find out the semi-circular canals are the most important part of your anatomy.

The man whose semi-circular canals are not perfect has no chance of becoming an aviator. The semi-circular canals are the human equilibrium apparatus. Without them you could not walk; you could not even stand up. You would be wobbling on all fours. The reason you tack all over the highway when you get "three-sheets-in-the-wind" is not that there's anything really wrong with your legs, but simply that the booze has upset the workings of the semi-circular canals which control your balance.

These little equilibrium adjusters are part of the structure of the inner ear. They are like three tiny spirit-levels, lying in three different planes practically at right angles to each other. They are all connected through channels and are filled with a peculiar kind of lymph. Just as the bubble in a spirit-level tells the eye the angle of the level, so the movement of the lymph in these canals sends a message to the brain whenever your head changes position.

If not working right they may send the wrong message to the brain or they may not send it quick enough. When you are flying, where balance is of supreme importance and where action must be quicker than thought, any imperfection in the SCCs would be fatal.

That is why in testing applicants for the aviation corps more attention is paid these tiny organs than to all the rest of the body.
Here's a little inside tip for prospective aviators. One question the examining surgeon asks is, "Have you ever been sea-sick?" Most applicants apparently think admission of sea-sickness might disqualify them, so they take liberties with the truth and answer "NO."

But it's wrong and puts the applicant under suspicion. Surgeons know every man whose semi-circular canals are in good condition is sure to have been seasick if he has had the chance, unless he just happens to have an iron-clad stomach that simply can't be turned inside out. So if you are up for aviation exam and strike this question, don't try to play fox; if you've been sea-sick, say so.

MORE WHEAT TO THE ACRE.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Luther Burbank is said to have developed a new variety of wheat—a "super-wheat"—which will yield four times the product on the same acreage over the ordinary kind of wheat. This would mean a production in the United States of from fifty to seventy bushels to the acre, where now the yield is fifteen or twenty bushels.

This would revolutionize the wheat business, and farmers who now give but little room to that crop would at once devote a share of their corn land to wheat and plow up their pastures for the planting of the same grain.

There is nothing unbelievable about such a discovery. The yields of many farm plants and vegetables have been greatly increased by farmers themselves in recent times through careful scientific cultivation and selection of the best seed and there is constant competition among them in the matter of corn growing. They seem to have given little systematic attention to increasing the wheat yield, but if Mr. Burbank has anticipated them in this there is no cause for complaint. He is reported to be very confident of his success in this matter and every one interested in the agricultural situation, will hope that he is right. Unfortunately it will be a year or so, probably, before there is sufficient supply of the new seed to make any difference in the general crop yield and farmers can not expect to profit by the new food law's $2 rate through its cultivation. Nevertheless, they will watch with interest for further news from the Burbank wheat experiment.

If this plant wizard's promise is fulfilled, Mr. Burbank will have rendered a great service to his country—a great war service if the conflict shall continue. No soldier in the field could do a better work.

GIRLS! MAKE A BEAUTY LOTION WITH LEMONS

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.—Advertisement.

PREFERS DARK CELL TO HUSBAND'S CARESS

Mother of Twelve Children Refuses to Return to Family.

The dark cell of the county jail holds no horrors for Mrs. Ida Patty, 48, who is the mother of twelve children and who left her home in Kokomo last November of her own free will. She will stay in prison thirty-five days and then walk forth a free woman rather than be bound by the affections of the husband who mistreated her, she tells.

Mrs. Patty was arrested Tuesday afternoon, along with Sherman Walker, 65, after the pair had been followed to Fort Wayne by the husband of the woman. Walker and Mrs. Patty pleaded guilty to charges of associating, in police court Wednesday morning. They were fined $25 and costs each. Both went to jail.

"Mamma, let me pay your fine and take you home," pleaded Thomas Patty, the husband, as the wife moved past him, with head erect and hurried from the court room.

Patty is the picture of despair. His face is seamed by unrelenting care. His black locks, streaked with gray, are bowed in sorrow, the deep sorrow of a broken home and scattered family.

"I love Ida. I never loved anybody else," faltered the man in the city court, and his voice broke as he spoke.

"I never had anything but trouble with Patty. I will not in jail before I go back with him," snapped the woman.

And go to jail the woman did, cheerfully. The husband went away in sorrow. Walker went sarcastically to prison. Nobody offered to pay Walker's fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Patty had been married thirty-two years. Their oldest son is twenty-four years old. Their youngest child is four years old. Only the usual domestic quarrels, which come with a laborer's salary and eleven children, entered their home until Walker crept into the residence as a boarder. Walker and Mrs. Patty ran away together last November.

The husband, broken by his grief, wandered west. He toiled along in Oklahoma for two months. A railroad conductor induced him to hunt for his wife. Patty returned to Indiana and took up the trail. His children are staying with the oldest son.

Patty met Walker on Lafayette street Tuesday afternoon. Patty carried a home made "black jack," constructed of rubber and an iron knob. He threatened to beat Walker's head off unless taken to his wife. When Mrs. Patty was found a scene followed. Police stopped a combat between Patty and Walker. All were taken to the police station.

At police headquarters Patty tried to kiss his wife. She threatened to stab him with a hat pin.

"And she cussed me," Patty told in police court Wednesday.

SALVATION ARMY GIVES OUTING TO CHILDREN

Four Special Cars Carry 400 Mothers, Boys and Girls to the Park.

Under the direction of Adjutant H. Moore, of the Fort Wayne Salvation Army, Wednesday, gave its annual picnic not only to the members of the Sunday school but to all children who wished to go along and all mothers.

It was a happy crowd that crowded four park cars which took them to the Fort Wayne pleasure resort north of the city. Many of the passengers on the cars were about to experience their first ride to Robison park this year and perhaps the last one.

The army had made all plans for the serving of a big dinner at noon in the grove of the park and at three o'clock in the afternoon refreshments of ice cream were served to all. It was estimated that 400 children enjoyed the day in this manner.

RESTRaining ORDER IS ASKED.

Warsaw, Ind., July 25.—A petition asking for an order restraining Rev. Samuel R. Hawkins, the pastor of the First Christian church; Archie L. Byler, chairman of the board of trustees; and Leroy Melick and Mrs. Victoria B. Moon, prominent members, from entering the church building and conducting services, has been filed in the Kosciusko circuit court by Arthur H. Upson and Daniel E. Smith, trustees. The action is the result of a controversy among the members of the First Christian church.

CASE OF BLUFFTON MAN COMPROMISED

Pleaded Guilty to Neglect and Takes a Light Fine.

The case of George Shigley, of Bluffton, auto driver, who played a prominent part in an automobile accident at the corner of Broadway and Taylor street several days ago, was settled without trial Tuesday afternoon. Shigley admitted striking the Decker, 1109 Barr street, who sustained a fractured hip, and Miss Luella Bencke, who sustained a sprained ankle, when his car hit a buggy and careened at the Taylor street turn. He reported his name to the young man and thought that was sufficient, he said.

After discussing the case it was decided to allow Shigley to plead guilty before the judge and accept a fine of $1 and costs, the lowest penalty assessed for failure to report an accident. A civil suit, to recover damages for injuries sustained in the accident, is filed by the couple who were hit by Shigley's machine.

Other Police Court Cases.

Edward Fairfield, 728 East Washington street, will be tried on July 26, on a charge of assault on Elsie Zalac, 1213 Erie street. The action is the result of a neighborhood misunderstanding.

Carl Rodenbeck was fined $5 and costs on an assault and battery charge.

Harry Fernwell, who faced three previous convictions on charges of intoxication, was fined $25 and costs for the fourth offense. Ely Shidel was fined $1 and costs on a drunk charge.

Herbert Holly and Peter Pertz, charged with train climbing, will be given a further hearing on July 31.

John L. Sullivan on Over-pugilist.

John L. Sullivan, the ex-pugilist, says that more people die from over-eating than from drink. One of the most prominent physicians in England says that is also the case over there. No wonder that so many people are troubled with indigestion. If you have trouble with your stomach adopt a diet suited to your stomach and occupation. Then if you should have indigestion take Chamberlain's Tablets. They strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally.—Advertisement.

CAPTAIN STREETER IS FOR UNCLE SAM

Chicago Squatter Permits Soldiers to Camp on Reservation.

Chicago, July 25.—"Captain" George Wellington Streeter, who has fought many battles with police and deputy sheriffs during the last twenty years when they have attempted to oust him from the "deserted lot of Lake Michigan," a portion of the lake front which he claims by right of discovery, welcomed the Second regiment, Illinois artillery when it went into camp today on the property.

When the "Captain" saw a squad of artillerymen laying out the camp he went to investigate.

"What are you fellows doing on my property?" he asked.

"Well, Cap," said a sergeant, "we're just going to camp here for awhile and get ourselves in shape to help lick the kaiser."

"Oh," said the "captain," "That's all right. I thought maybe you soldiers had been sent to take possession of the desert and if that was the case I'd fight the whole lot of you. This land belongs to me by right of discovery and an army couldn't take it away from me. But if you are just going to camp here for a while, I have no objections. You soldiers are perfectly welcome to Streeterville, I'm for Uncle Sam."

Victrola

$15 to $300 Easy Payments

Time was, when other things headed the list in planning a new home; but today the Victrola, which represents so much, enjoys unsurpassed popularity.

It is a thoroughly unselfish gift, because it affords pleasure to the entire family. The Victrola is also a gift which appeals both to the heart and to the intellect; no one can listen to the ballads of our great singers like McCormack, Alma Gluck, Evan Williams, Julia Culp, without being deeply stirred; and no one can hear the brilliant operatic arias of Caruso, Galli-Curci, Ruffo, Farrar and other great artists without gaining largely in knowledge of the higher forms of music. Will you not make our Victrola rooms a visit?

O'CONNOR-KELLEHER.

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place in St. Patrick church on Tuesday morning, when Miss Ellen Kelleher was married to Mr. William O'Connor at 7 o'clock. Rev. J. F. Delaney officiated at the nuptial mass.

Miss Margaret Shea, a niece of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Mr. John O'Connor, brother to the groom, was his attendant. The bride was gowned in a suit of blue taffeta with white crepe georgette blouse, white maline hat and white shoes and gloves.

The bridesmaid wore a Nile green silk combined with white lace, a white hat and her flowers were pink. The bride's bouquet was of roses and swansons.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Michael Graney, 1707 Webster street, to the immediate family, friends and guests. A bride's cake decorated the table.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor left later in the day for an eastern trip, and after ten days they will be at home at 236 West Butler street. The groom is a machinist at the Pennsylvania shops. Both bride and groom enjoy the respect and confidence of many friends and acquaintances.

Canning Lesson Thursday.

The next three forenoon women are to postpone their other work for the time being and go to the Scottish Rite cathedral at 9 o'clock Thursday and watch Miss Anna Garvin can vegetables. No matter how explicit the directions given, it always helps to see someone actually do things, so that in some ways accounts for the large gatherings of women at Wednesday's demonstrations. It is not only interesting, but many women believe it to be a duty to thus conserve their next winter's supply of vegetables. Lessons are Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings only.

MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernestus Shuman Celebrate With Family Gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernestus Shuman, of 222 East Wayne street, began their wedded life fifty years ago Wednesday, July 25, 1867, in Berwick, Pa., where they were married. Wednesday they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home with all their sons and daughters, but one, with them. Mr. George Shuman, of New Orleans, La., could not be present with the others in their reunion. There were present, however, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Shuman and daughter, Violet, of Ardmore, Okla.; Frank Shuman and son, Ralph, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shuman and daughter, Marian, of Sparta, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shuman and daughter, Betty Jane, of this city, and the two daughters who live at home, Misses Catherine and Anna Shuman. Mr. Shuman is one of the best known business men in Fort Wayne. He came here when a very young man and was employed in the furniture store of John M. Miller, who was a relative, for eight years. During the time Mr. Shuman returned to Pennsylvania, his native state, to get his bride, who was Miss Amanda Grover, of Mainville, Pa. The young couple came directly to Fort Wayne and within a few years were living on the property where now stands their present residence. After eight years with Mr. Miller Mr. Shuman accepted a position as head salesman for the Burkey Gray furniture store of Grand Rapids, and for two years he and his family lived in the Michigan city, then Mr. Shuman decided to return to Fort Wayne and go into business for himself.

Years of success followed that venture and the business grew until it became the Shuman Supply house and later The Fair notion house. It was Mr. Shuman's plan to keep everything that a household could desire from a "pin to a piano," as he would laughingly express it. Mr. Shuman continued in business until about fifteen years ago when he retired.

The Shuman home was filled with wonderful flowers at the golden wedding celebration, some of them gifts of friends, but hundreds of roses coming from Ardmore, Okla., where Gilbert Shuman has a range of greenhouses and does a flourishing business. A bountiful dinner was served at 1 o'clock and the table was decorated with a basket of beautiful flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Shuman received beautiful gifts from their children and the fun feature of the day was little Betty Jane Shuman's presentation of a package of gold dust to Grandpa and Grandma as a bit of something yellow for their golden wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Shuman have always been identified with Trinity English Lutheran Evangelical church and the family are prominent among the workers of that congregation.

Warm Weather Ways to Take Out Bad Stains.

BY BIDDY BYE.)

Simplify your work in warm weather. This is also a warm economy at any season of the year. Try to work out the details of your various employments in the easiest way.

For instance, consider the stains sure to appear on small children's garments every wash day.

Soak a muddy white skirt in sour milk.

To take out a chocolate stain, rub and soak in kerosene and wash in cold water.

Rub grass stains with molasses and wash in the usual way.

For perspiration, use boiling water. Soak fresh fruit stains in milk.

Use turpentine or benzine to remove paint stains.

Milk, sweet or sour, will take out ink stains; salt and lemon juice is also good. For small stains, wash with rice water instead of soap.

Treat coffee stains with boiling water when fresh.

Mildew is a kind of mold and most difficult to remove. Soak spread in buttermilk overnight, then spread in the sun; or rub with salt and lemon juice.

Egg stained table linen should be soaked in cold water before washing. If put into hot water the stain will set.

To clean a soiled lace yoke or collar, rub powdered starch into the lace, put aside for several hours, then brush and shake. The starch absorbs the grease which holds the grime.

To clean white sweaters and other white woolen goods without washing, rub thoroughly in corn meal and salt, and set aside overnight. Brush and hang in the shade to freshen.

Rain water and soap will remove machine oil from washable fabrics.

Clean children's white shoes with a paste made of milk and whiting.

A mixture of salt and flour will remove mud stains.

To wash silk garments so they will not turn yellow, add a tablespoonful of wood alcohol to every quart of water used in rinsing.

Send your dry cleaning to the plant modernly equipped. The Peerless. Phone 6095.

KEEP REFRIGERATOR CLEAN HELPS TO LESSEN DISEASE

A refrigerator is a device for preserving food by the antiseptic low temperature.

The importance of keeping an ice box clean can not be overstated. It should be kept scrupulously clean at all times. Any liquid that is spilled should be wiped up at once and all crumbs removed. If this is not done these foods form a breeding place for germs.

The ideal temperature of the average icebox, which is between 40 degrees and 50 degrees Fahrenheit, stops the growth of the bacteria only temporarily. Food that is allowed to remain in the icebox too long will decay.

In order to have an icebox work up to the highest standards of hygiene and efficiency you must—

1. Keep it clean.

2. Keep the ice chamber well filled so as to regulate the temperature.

3. Use the foodstuffs as quickly as possible, thus lessening the time of storage and the consequent danger of contamination.

4. Keep an open jar of calcium chloride in the food chamber box. As the top of the chloride becomes moist scrape it off until a dry surface is exposed.

Be careful about placing milk in the refrigerator. If milk is kept in an open vessel in an icebox with meats and various kinds of vegetables, it will absorb odors from them.

STERILIZE PEAS AND BEANS 120 MINUTES FOR CANNING

Wax and string beans as well as young tender peas may be sterilized in one hundred and twenty minutes.

Remove jars from boiler or sterilizer, tighten covers, invert to cool and test the joints for leakage. Examine cans for leaks. Even the slightest leak if not closed completely at once, means that the product in all probability will not keep.

Do not place glass jars to cool in a draft which is liable to cause them to crack. Wrap jars in paper to prevent blanching, and store in a cool place.

If peas are roughly handled in blanching or cold dipping, or split or broken peas are not removed before packing, the liquid in the jars may have a slightly clouded appearance.

If sterilizing has been properly done, cloudiness is no evidence that the product has spoiled.

MOUTH RINSING WILL WARD OFF GUM DISEASES

One ought to make a habit of rinsing the mouth with a good mouth wash one or more times a day. This will keep the gums in a healthy condition and sweeten the breath.

The eyes are of such prime importance that it is strange more attention is not given them.

A bath in tepid water given through the eyelids will tend to freshen and strengthen them wonderfully after a hard day's work.

If the eyes become inflamed there are several soothing remedies which may be easily made and will help reduce the inflammation. A solution of boracic in hot water is helpful.

CREOLE SAUCE.

Two tablespoonsful chopped onion, two tablespoonsful tomato puree, two tablespoonsful of butter, one fourth cup mushrooms, one and one-half cups of brown sauce, one teaspoonful of salt, six or eight ripe olives chopped. Add all the ingredients to brown sauce and heat. It is delicious even if the mushrooms are omitted. Good served with meats and excellent with nut loaves.

Hold Annual Picnic.

The Trinity Methodist Episcopal church and Sunday school will hold their annual picnic at Lawton park Thursday afternoon and evening of this week from 3 o'clock to 8:30. There will be a basket supper served at 6 o'clock. Friends are requested to bring their share for the lunch. Committees will have charge of the games. A ball game will be played between the officers of the Sunday school and a team selected from the members. The game will be played after supper. Those having small children living at a distance or those who cannot walk to the picnic grounds will notify George Mong, on Riverside drive, and a way will be provided for bringing them.

Church Notes.

The Misses Louise and Frances Brinker will entertain at a public luncheon party Wednesday evening at their home, 1181 Wilt street. The party will be a benefit for the St. Paul's Catholic school.

The Young Ladies' Aid society of the Emmanuel church will give a lawn social Wednesday evening on the church lawn, corner Broadway and Creighton. Music will be furnished by the church orchestra.

The monthly tea and business meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church will be held Thursday afternoon. Mesdames Sims, Glenn, Feris, Norman and Rohrbaugh will be hostesses.

An all day meeting and pot luck dinner will be given in the basement of the West Creighton avenue Church of Christ Thursday by section No. 3 of the Ladies' Aid society.

BANK THE LEFTOVER MEATS AND VEGETABLES FOR SOUP THE NEXT DAY, ADVISES BIDDY BYE

Like Putting Away Your Pennies for a Rainy Day—Try Some New Ways of Conserving Food.

By BIDDY BYE.

Bank the surplus and leftover foods in the soup kettle!

The wartime cook can put away extra potatoes, carrots, tomatoes and other vegetables, also the essence of bones and meat scraps by turning them into soup, meanwhile having as much fun as the child who drops pennies into a toy bank.

By preparing a can of soup at a time, her cupboard shelves will look as precious to her next winter as the safety vault of a bank.

But canning soup is still so much of a novelty to the average cook that she shuns the experiment. Thus she is like a soldier who disobeys orders.

"Save everything," is Uncle Sam's command. Which means, "Don't rely only on old ways of saving, but try all of the new."

So here is how to use your soup kettle as a savings bank:

Make any good soup after your favorite recipe, turn it into hot sterilized glass jars, screw down covers loosely, set the jars into a water-bath and sterilize ninety minutes. Seal and cool gradually.

It is a good plan to cook down the soup to a thicker consistency than is desirable for serving, and to add more water when a can is opened. This saves containers, which are now high priced.

The vegetable portion of the soup may be canned alone and the stock or broth added when required. Good soup mixtures like good salads, are often made by putting together the things one happens to have on hand.

A sample mixture which will make a delicious soup when meat stock is added consists of one part onions, three parts celery (leaves and stalks), four parts okra, four parts dried peas, four parts parsley, six parts turnips, six parts lima beans, six parts cabbage and sixteen parts carrots.

Soak the lima beans and peas overnight and boil one-half hour. Blanch the other vegetables by plunging in boiling water for three minutes and then into cold water. Cut the celery and onions fine, and chop the other vegetables into cubes. Mix thoroughly and season to taste. Pack in hot sterilized glass jars and fill with boiling water. Partially seal the jars, set in a water bath and sterilize ninety minutes. Any of the vegetables may be omitted.

Tomato Pulp for Soup—Place the tomatoes in a wire basket or a piece of cheesecloth and plunge into boiling water for two minutes. Then plunge into cold water and remove skins and stem core. Turn tomatoes into porcelain preserving kettle and boil half an hour. Press the pulp through a sieve and pack in glass jars while hot, adding a level teaspoon of salt to each quart. Set the partially sealed jars into a water bath and sterilize forty-five minutes. Can be used for tomato sauce as well as for cream soups.

Chicken Gumbo—Cut two pounds of ham into small cubes and boil thirty minutes. Mince three pounds of chicken and one-half pound of onions fine. Mix a smooth paste of one and one-quarter pounds of flour. Mix with three gallons of soup stock. Season with salt and boil twenty minutes. Turn into hot sterilized glass jars and process in water bath for ninety minutes. Dilute with hot water for serving.

the ice cream social which was to have been given in the evening by the Young Ladies' society of Emmanuel church, was postponed until Wednesday night. The Emmanuel orchestra will render the music.

DRAFT BOARDS AWAIT

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Vacancies in the Second District Should Be Filled Thursday.

Draft boards of Fort Wayne and Allen county are anxiously awaiting orders from Washington.

Not a line of official communication has been delivered in Fort Wayne since the human lottery was carried out last Friday. The local boards will make no effort to proceed until told to do so by federal authorities.

First word expected is the official result of the drawing of conscription numbers. If command is given to summon the conscription men at once the boards will send out conscription examination notices without delay.

Mayor W. J. Hosey sent the names of two citizens to Governor Goodrich Tuesday night, which men are recommended to take the places of William Ceake and Gustav Boerger, who have resigned from the conscription board in the second district. Reply from the governor is expected on Thursday.

The two citizens named by Mayor Hosey have promised the mayor that they will serve if appointed on the board. Their names are withheld until their appointment is ratified.

TWO TAKE EXAMS.

Two young men are spending Thursday in writing on examination questions propounded by the civil service department of the government. The test was held on the second floor of the federal building. One applicant wants to be a government engineer and the other a stenographer.

A stonebreaking machine of rather notable size and capacity has been recently installed at Rogers City, Mich. It will hold sixty-eight tons of material at one time and will handle 1,250 tons an hour.

HAVE LOST ALL FAITH

After Waiting for Fourteen Years Track is Not Yet Extended.

BIBLE SCHOOL HEAD APPEALS TO COUNCIL

Promises Without Works Are as Tinkling Cymbals and Sounding Brass.

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Hebrews 11:1.

"Charity beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things." Corinthians 13:7.

Faith, the unfaltering beacon of hope, as set out by Paul and the other apostles, is one of the corner stones upon which the Fort Wayne Bible school, located at the south end of South Wayne street, has built its power.

Hope and charity have joined in sweet communion with the other sacred attributes in the seemingly attitude of the Bible school towards the traction company.

For fourteen years, explained J. H. Allen, before the city council, Tuesday evening the Bible school has hoped for the evidence of things not seen by the way of an extension of the South Wayne car line.

But promises without works are as tinkling cymbals and as sounding brass. Even a Bible school can stand upon promises too long. Charity never faileth when charity is made up of stringent action. It is this kind of charity which the Bible school, which now enrolls seventy-five pupils, expects to adopt towards the traction company.

It is the blessed sort which finally brought electric lights to the Bible school, Mr. Allen explained. It must also bring the car line to the door of the school.

J. H. Allen in a forceful address before the council body expressed no regrets because faith has been the portion of the testamental institution during the fourteen years that the school has silently waited for an extension of the car line. He believes that the day of answered petitions should be at hand, however. He asked the council to bare its strong right arm in helping the work of inducing an extension of the city line.

Helpless, Say Council.

But the council has no strong right arm in this matter, Mr. Allen was told by President William A. Bayer, of the council. The city body has no authority to force the traction company to build a car line, Mr. Bayer explained.

More than fifty residents of the district near the Bible school attended the council session to ascertain the action taken on the petition for paving South Wayne street and extending the car line. The men and women fanned and mopped their brows with their handkerchiefs for more than an hour while the council proceeded with business leading up to the paving question.

Frank Hilgeman delivered a talk in favor of the car line extension. He revisited the long suffering attitude of the Bible school and expressed the opinion that 100 new homes would spring up in the neighborhood if the car line were extended.

Several council members spoke on the topic and all admitted that an attempt to force the traction company to action would be fruitless. If the pavement is laid now the car line will not be built in conjunction, traction officers had told councilmen.

In showing the effort being made by the traction company at present and the fact that more action now cannot be expected, President Feustel, of the traction corporation, had presented a communication which was delivered by President of the Council Bayer.

According to the communication the traction company's ten new double track cars are to be put in use in the city in September. These trucks are not a paying investment, but furnish excellent accommodation to the public, Bayer explained. Arrangements are being made with the Ohio Electric for extending the East Lewis street lines. All cars are to be re-labeled so that they can be distinguished a block away. The cars are to be marked so that persons can tell which car has departed and its destination. All the improvements planned will cost the company $75,000, it was claimed.

Over the opposing vote of Councilmen Offenloch and Rogge the council passed an ordinance ordering the paving of South Wayne avenue and the installing of a car line, but stating that the improvement is not to be started for twelve months. Councilmen said they had been told that the traction company will be able to pay for the extension in a year.

Let Getz Go.

The council voted against the petition for an increase in the pay of City Forester Carl Getz. Council Members Keller, Offenloch and John making up the committee on salaries, reported unfavorably on the proposition to retain Forester Getz by paying him more money. Councilmen Hartman and Schiebeck, of the parks and buildings committee, submitted a minority report and spoke in favor of retaining Mr. Getz. The negative report was adopted by the council.

Favor Industrial Track.

The petition for an industrial track between Montgomery and Holman streets, from the Pennsylvania railroad to Barr street was adopted. Councilmen Korte and Schiebeck favored the sustaining of the objection to the track. They told of damage to be done to the new colored Baptist church and to new homes built along

BE A 'WENT' NOT A 'SENT'

Men Who Hesitate to Enlist Hear This Slogan from Recruiting Officers.

103 ARE SENT FROM FT. WAYNE TUESDAY

Percentage of Rejections is Extremely Light Says Capt. T. F. Ryan.

"Be a 'went' not a 'sent' are the words which men who hesitate to enlist are hearing from the lips of recruiting officers.

Results in Fort Wayne and the Fort Wayne district have been more than gratifying in the past few days and Captain Thomas F. Ryan, U. S. A., stated that 103 men were sent away Tuesday. At noon Wednesday 55 more were booked to leave. They were still filling into the office Wednesday afternoon.

Captain Ryan explained that the percentage of rejections has been smaller than any time during the recruiting period and the men who are presenting themselves for enlistment now are mostly physically fit.

It is also stated that a large percentage of the men who have been sent to Fort Thomas, Ky., and Fort Benjamin Harrison are youths of Fort Wayne and Allen county. Many of those who were sent Tuesday enlisted as bakers and cooks.

Credit for Volunteers.

In apportioning draft quotas for all districts in the country credit was given for all voluntary enlistments prior to June 30, but it is believed that no credit on this draft will be given for the volunteers since that time.

The general opinion prevails and is semi-official that the districts will be given credit for those who volunteered since June 30 on the next draft, which is likely to come next spring.

Mobilize August 5.

Commissioned officers of all the local national guard organizations have now received orders that they must mobilize their units on August 5. The plan is to have the companies remain in their home stations for a week or ten days, where each member will receive inoculation treatments.

It is likely that the companies will be sent directly to Fort Hattysburg, but rumor has it from the adjutant general's office that the companies will be called to Fort Benjamin Harrison for a few days at least.

Capt. S. Carter Here.

Capt. Solon Carter, commanding officer of Battery E, of Indianapolis, arrived in Fort Wayne Tuesday night to relieve Capt. Arthur O. Brockenbrough, of Lafayette, now adjutant of the second battalion of Indiana field artillery. Captain Carter will assist in the work of recruiting Battery B.

One hundred and eighty names now appear on the roster of Battery B and six more men enlisted Wednesday morning. Company E, the infantry unit, enlisted ten more men Tuesday and Wednesday.

Ice Cream Social.

An ice cream social, the proceeds of which will be given to the treasury of Battery B, will be given next Tuesday evening at 1150 West Main street.

County Official Enlists.

Emmett Tielker, who was the special officer of the county who guarded the prisoners as they worked on the county roads, enlisted in the infantry and was sent to Fort Benjamin Harrison Wednesday.

Non-Com. School.

All non-commissioned officers of Battery B and all men who have been acting as non-commissioned officers are requested by order of the commanding officer to attend a "non-com" school which will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

the way of the track. Other council members expressed the belief that the track will be a boon to business in the section to be affected.

How About Auto.

"What right has the food relief organization to purchase an automobile out of the city funds?" asked Council President Bayer, when the matter of donating another $1,000 for food relief work was presented before the body.

It was explained by Councilman Schiebeck that the auto is needed to hurry about the city in answer to the many calls for "help" from embryo city farmers. The machine will be sold when the summer's work is finished, Schiebeck explained.

In order to have the matter thoroughly investigated it was decided by the council to have the matter of an additional $1,000 placed before the finance committee for the next two weeks.

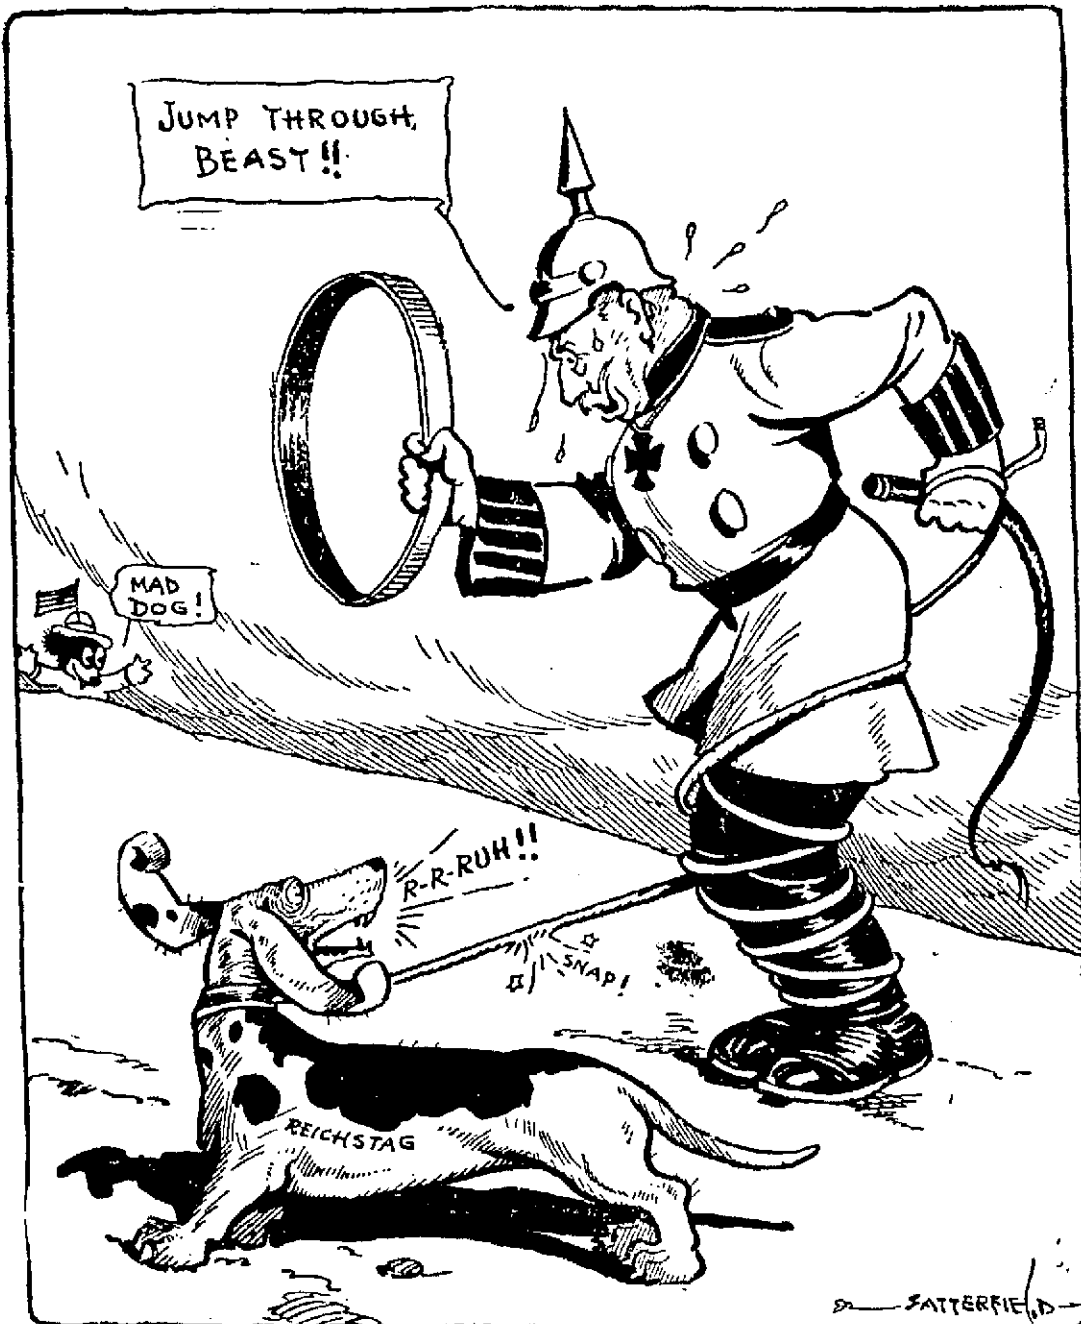

Ordinances were passed for appropriating $2,070 to pay increase in salaries of the policemen; appropriating $2,445 to pay increase in salaries of firemen; $1,500 from the general park fund to the maintenance of parks accounts; $300 to the department of public health to take care of increase in salaries of sanitary officers and the deputy meat and milk inspector.

NEW JUNIOR VICE.

Addie Mariotte was elected junior vice president at the regular meeting of Wayne circle, No. 45, Ladies of the G. A. R., Tuesday evening, succeeding Nellie Vought, who has resigned.

Increasing mortality among babies in Berlin is reported due to the scanty allowance of sugar in Germany. 750 grams a month being the amount prescribed for each child. Young babies are now to get an additional half pound each month.

WILLIE AND HIS DOG

BARBARA THURMAN CALLED BY DEATH

Had Lived in This City for More Than Half Century.

Mrs. Barbara Thurman, aged 70 years, died Tuesday evening at her home, 317 West Jefferson street. Death was caused by a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Thurman was born in Germany, but at an early age came to the United States. She had lived in Fort Wayne for the past fifty years and was widely and most favorably known here. She was an ardent and sincere church worker, being a member of the Emmanuel Lutheran church and of the Tabernacle society. The deceased had come to this city three years ago from her home in Coldwater, Mich., to make her home with her daughter.

The remains will be sent to her old home, where funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday at the St. Charles Catholic church. Interment in Oak Grove cemetery.

Summary of the Day's War News

Russia's shaken armies in Galicia are still in a retreat, which bids fair not to end until they reach approximately the line occupied by them last year before Gen. Brusiloff began his big offensive.

Despite this extensive retrograde movement, covering virtually all the front between the north Galician border and the Carpathian foot hills, the tone of both official and unofficial dispatches coming out of Petrograd is not pessimistic.

There is apparent evidence that the disorganization in the ranks, induced by the machinations of the extremists and believed to have been largely promoted by German intrigue, will be adequately dealt with and a firm front again be presented to the enemy. For one thing, the Germans by their own admission have not the men to spare to prosecute a sustained offensive on a large scale on the eastern front. The British and the French are keeping them too busy and they are too apprehensive of some extra forceful stroke in the west to transfer any great number of troops from the Franco-Belgian war area.

The Russians have big reserves of men and Premier Kerensky, with the vast powers now in his hands, will find it is possible. It is believed, to weed out the disloyal elements rapidly from the front ranks and replace them with the hosts of dependable troops which Russia still possesses.

The inherent strength of the entente position in the west has just received a fresh illustration on the Alsace front. Here the French have just emerged victors in a long drawn out struggle

MORE RAIN THAN USUAL

Amount Thus Far This Year is Greater Than for Several Years.

SHOWER TUESDAY BRINGS HALF INCH

Average for Entire Season in This Region is 36.56 Inches.

Jupiter Pluvius, the "rain giver," has been extremely liberal in his offerings to Fort Wayne and Allen county this year. According to statistics compiled in the government weather bureau station in this city the rainfall thus far this year exceeds the average rainfall for this section, for the first seven months of the year.

Since March 1, 20.65 inches of rain have fallen, in comparison with the same length of time for the average amount is 17.46. However January and February were slack in their amount of rainfall this year.

The following table as given by the weather man shows the amount of rainfall this year and the average.

Month	Average	1917
January	2.68	1.30
February	2.51	.52
March	3.65	3.71
April	2.95	3.47
May	3.59	4.00
June	3.57	4.63
July	3.50	4.84
Total	22.60	22.97

The average rainfall for the entire season for this region is 36.56 inches. The amount specified for July, 1917, in the above table is only up to date and does not include the rain which may fall between now and the last of the month.

It is seen from the above table that the rainfall since March has been heavier than the average. For July thus far the amount is 1.24 inches more.

The shower of Tuesday afternoon brought a half inch of water and the wind attained a velocity of twenty-eight miles an hour.

with the Germans for possession of the important high ground in the Craonne region.

Yesterday's brilliant attack gives Gen. Petain's troops renewed possession, in almost complete measure, of the slight area gained by the crown prince in his costly series of attacks.

The French even pushed beyond their old line at some points.

This morning came the test of the German reaction. It was directed against the positions recaptured by the French on the Calonne plateau. Although delivered after a violent bombardment it was entirely futile, the French retaining the re-won ground and consolidating their gains.

The path of the Russian retreat in Galicia is traced in today's German official statement reporting the occupation of Tarnopol by the Austro-German forces, which down nearer the Dniester are nearing Buczac and still further south have occupied Stanislaw and Nadvorna. The last named town is on the edge of the Carpathians.

CHILDLESS MARRIAGE CULMINATES IN SUIT

Charlotte Glass Begins Action for Divorce Against Chas. Glass.

Stating that she was married to the defendant on November 28, 1895, and that no children had been born, Charlotte Glass has begun suit for divorce against Charles Glass.

The plaintiff states that they lived together as man and wife until July 24, 1917, on which date they separated. She complains of the defendant that he possesses an ungovernable and violent temper and that he frequently curses her. She also alleges that he has failed to amply provide for her.

hastening to the Galician front shortly after the news of the break in the Russian lines was received witnessed some of the fighting on the Serch line between Tarnopol and Trembowla, it is now announced.

If a British offensive on the Belgian front is in prospect, as the unprecedented heavy artillery fire indicates, it is evident that has not yet been launched. Today's official statement from London reports numerous successful raids in this area, but no wide movement of the British infantry. The Berlin bulletin announces continuation of the exceptionally violent big gun fire.

CONVENTION OF IRISH STARTED IN CHILLY WAY

Dublin, July 25.—The convention which is to attempt to reach a solution of the Irish problem was opened this morning at Regent house, Trinity college. Long before eleven o'clock the hall set for the opening a large crowd packed the college green to watch the arrival of the delegates. John Redmond, the nationalist leader, and Joseph Devlin, one of his prominent party associates, were among the early arrivals.

Protestant and Roman Catholic clergymen arrived soon afterward followed by representatives of public organizations, trades and labor councils, who came in groups. At the appointed hour all the delegates had taken their places in the assembly hall.

There was a noticeable lack of enthusiasm among the spectators. Joseph Devlin was the only delegate who was cheered.

JAP PRINCE LIKES SMITH

Art is Great Favorite of Members of Royal Family in Japan.

PAPER TELLS OF HIS WONDERFUL FLIGHTS

Loops the Loop and Does All Sorts of Queer Things in the Air.

Art Smith, the Fort Wayne bird-boy and world's greatest and most daring aviator, continues to win the admiration of the Japs, including members of the Japanese royal family, according to the newspapers of Japan, just received by the father of the young aviator in this city.

Prince Yi, Jr., an heir of Prince Yi, former king of Korea, is one of Art's greatest admirers, according to the following story translated into the English from a Japanese paper: Skilful and Successful Flight by Mr. Art Smith in the Presence of Prince Yi, Jr.

H. I. H. Prince Yi, an heir of Prince Yi, former king of Korea, proceeded to the Fukushima parade ground to witness an ascent by Mr. Art Smith to his aeroplane, leaving the Kyoto hotel at 3:30 p. m. on the 23rd by the motor car with Mr. Kim, who is his military attendant and accompanying Mr. Marumori, police superintendent of Kyoto prefecture, Prince Ito, the vice ground master of the Imperial ceremonies, Mr. Kiuchi, governor of the Kyoto prefecture, and other officers by other four motor cars and they have arrived at 4 o'clock p. m. to the Fukushima parade ground and they have entered into the resting place with tent which was specially built for this occasion in center of the ground while spectators of several thousands were welcomed warmly.

After seeing the commander of the division, Prince calling up Mr. Smith and his mother and have grasped their hands joyfully and then Mr. Smith has commenced his skilful arts in the sky just like butterflies playing on the flowers, Prince coming out from the tent and looking up the aeroplane which is flying high in the sky.

He has expressed his admiration heartily. Finishing the performance of ascent successfully, Mr. Smith when was leaving the place after saluted to H. I. H. Prince Yi, he called up him and granted him a money in the envelop smilingly as a mark of his satisfaction, and Prince has grasped Mr. Smith's hand pleasantly again and he has left the place at 4:30 p. m. satisfactorily. Planing Down (Vol Plane) and Looping the Loop.

The 2nd performance of Mr. Art Smith has started at 4:15 p. m. and made a very successful flight, remaining in the air for 16 minutes, performing skilful arts among those planing down and looping the loop which are very difficult to be done and he has landed safely at 4:31 p. m.

Letter From Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith, who is with her son in Japan, has written to Mr. Smith that the Japanese people look upon Art as a great hero. "Some of the army aviators said they wanted to loop like that and then they would be willing to die," she writes. "We are going to Kobe this morning."

Seven Cattle Killed.

Lightning struck a large tree on the farm of Charles Fahlsing, just west of the Brookside farm, on the Bass road, and killed seven head of cattle which had sought shelter under the tree. Four of this number were milch cows and the other three were steers.

Appraisers set the value of the cattle at $255. Five of the number were owned by Christ Fahlsing, who carried $250 insurance in the Adams Township Fire Insurance company. The other two head belonged to another man, who carried insurance in the Huntertown Insurance company.

Temperature Going Up.

The highest temperature reached Tuesday was 89 degrees, which is equal to the record high mark for this year. Indications were given that this record might be broken Wednesday afternoon as the mercury kept rising steadily. Fair and continued warmer is the prediction for Thursday's weather program.

Strikes College Dome.

Lightning struck the large tower on the main building of Concordia college during the storm Tuesday afternoon, tearing a large hole on the east side of the dome. A large amount of roofing was also destroyed.

The tail of the rat is a most important appendage. It has more muscles than a human hand, being used as a hand, as a balancer and as a spring to aid in jumping.

STORM DOES DAMAGE HERE

Two Houses and a Street Car Are Hit by Lightning.

PANIC AVERTED AT CHAUTAUQUA

For a Time It Was Feared Tent Would Be Blown Down.

Fort Wayne was visited late Tuesday afternoon by a terrific electrical storm that for a time threatened to do considerable damage. Fortunately, it did not last long. During the time that the storm was in progress one-half inch of water fell, according to official records kept at the weather bureau's office.

The storm came while the Creators band concert was in progress at the chautauqua grounds. This tent was crowded and although the lightning flashed and the wind threatened to tear the tent to shreds every person remained seated, averting what might have been a panic. After the storm had passed the concert was continued. Chautauqua officials declare they never before have seen a more orderly audience under such circumstances.

Three Fire Alarms.

Three fire alarms sounded during the storm. One call was to the high school building, corner of Barr and Lewis streets, where lightning had been carried into the structure by electric light wires. A motor was burned out and switches blown. Loss is estimated at $10.

The home of Otto Albright, 1421 Taylor street, was struck by a lightning bolt. Shingles were scattered from the roof, but no fire of consequence resulted.

A telephone pole was badly burned at the corner of Clay and Columbia streets when hit by lightning.

Street Car Is Hit.

A Broadway-South Wayne street car, No. 268, was struck by a bolt of lightning at Lavinia street and Broadway at 4:20 o'clock Tuesday evening, during the storm which visited the city. There were but five passengers on the car in addition to the conductor and motorman. It appeared as though the bolt struck a trolley wire near the car and the bolt followed the trolley pole down to the controller in the car. The heavy car seemed to sway when struck. There were long fierce flashes of fire inside the car and two lady passengers let out a shriek. The machinery of the car was damaged and had to be taken to the barn for repairs.

South Bend, Ind., July 25.—Depressed because he held one of the early numbers in the draft, Russell Barr, 23, of South Bend, attempted to commit suicide by shooting. He placed the muzzle of the gun against his chin and then pushed the trigger with his foot. Practically all of his face was blown off. He is still living but cannot recover. Conscription May Take Many Major League Baseball Stars

Robertson, Rousch and Others Are Near the Top in Drawings.

Major league baseball may suffer before the end of the present season as a result of the conscription law that will soon go into effect. Many of the top notches in the national pastime have found their numbers up among the top in the list of numbers drafted last week. The fact that the homes of the ball players are scattered all over the country makes it difficult to ascertain the standing of the players in the drawings, but nevertheless many of the major league stars have been notified that they are likely to be called as a part of the new army, and will be called into a training camp different from that used for spring training purposes.

One of the teams that was hit hardest by the drawings, according to reports, was Brooklyn. Pfeffer, Cadore and Smith, three of the Robins' leading hurlers, were included in the first numbers.

Ray Schalk, premier catcher for the Chicago White Sox, was very near the top of the list in the drawings, as was Weaver, of the same team.

Eddie Rousch, leading batter of the National league, and star outfielder of the Cincinnati, may also be required to report for the new army before the close of the season, and Eller and Groh, of the same team, were also among the first ones drawn.

The New York Giants are almost sure to lose the services of Davy Robertson, one of the team's most consistent outfielders and best hitters. Benny Kauff, Peritt and Tesau, of the same team, were also drawn, but their numbers may be far enough down to escape the draft call.

Mitchell, of Detroit, whose home is in the Sardinia, Miss., district, was among the first drawn. The Boston Nationals may also lose the services of some of their star performers, among those drawn near the top of the list being Pitchers Nehf, Ragan, Barnes and infielders Rawlings and Rice.

Jack Berry, manager of the Boston Red Sox, was also among the men whose numbers were drawn near the top of the list.

Just how many of the major league players can claim exemption is highly problematical. Many of them are married men and may be able to escape under that grounds. It is thought that few would be exempt for physical disability.

RAIN SPOILS CHIEFS' CHANCES FOR VICTORY

Two Double Headers Will Be Played in Next Two Days.

Rain, coming down in streams, in torrents, and by the bucketful, put the dampers on the game between the Chiefs and Richmond yesterday just when it seemed that the warriors were on their way to a victory over the Nuts in the opening game of the series. The moisture came in the third inning, when the home guard had two men on base with but one down. Handsome Harry Higbee was on the firing line and gave every indication of pulling through the nine innings in great shape.

Higbee started the third inning with a walk, Breaux beat out a bunt, and Siegfried sacrificed. With Smith up ready to chase the runners across the weatherman took a hand in the proceedings and all hands rushed to cover. The field was soon a sea of mud, and Umps Johnson gave the sign to the drenched athletes to beat it to the clubhouse.

Two games have been postponed between the Chiefs and Richmond, which means that in the next two days four games must be played. A double header was on the boards for today and another for tomorrow.

Vandagriff pulled a fine play during the course of the abbreviated game, going over back of second and nailing a grounder and throwing Gilbert out at first. Two runs were cut off by the play.

This makes a total of $10,723.71 he has given since the baseball season started, representing 19 per cent of the receipts.

Worry about a post season series anyway. Losing a ball in a golf course was garden is about as satisfactory as drawing a club to fill a heart flush.

CHIP BEATS HOWARD. Providence, July 25.—George Chip, former middleweight champion, got the decision over Johnny Howard here last night. Chip had Howard groggy in the eleventh, but could not knock him out. The bout went twelve rounds.

BANTAMS MAKE GREAT FIGHTERS IN SPORT, SO U. S. WANTS THEM FOR WAR.

to get into the service under army regulations, who declared they should be given a chance to serve their country and pointed out that many of the greatest fighters were small men.

It is not difficult to find under-sized men in athletics who have been winners in their fields of endeavor, little men who have outstripped their larger brothers.

Three years ago the Boston Braves won the National league championship and world series. The greatest pitcher of the outfit was Dick Rudolph, a short stubby fellow, who had been thought too small by McGraw and was not given a chance with the Giants. The shortstop of the club was Rabbit Maranville, one of the smallest men in baseball and one of the greatest infielders the game has produced.

Baseball has produced other great "little men." Heine Groh is diminutive, Eddie Cicotte is short and stubby and there are many others.

Boxing has produced many "little champions." Johnny Wilde, flyweight champion of the world, probably could win against any of the present-day bantams. Jack Dillon, the little giant, is one of the greatest little men to ever batter his way through the big heavyweight class. Joe Walcott, greatest of welterweights, was of bantam regiments.

Not a Corn or Callus on Feet

Apply few drops, then lift them off without pain.

A noted Cincinnati authority discovered a new ether compound and called it freezeone and it now can be had in little bottles for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of freezeone upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears. Then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can lift it off with fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying freezeone or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses, just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! It works like a charm. Try it!

Women should keep freezeone on their dressers and never let a corn ache twice.

CORSET STAY SAVES LIFE.

Mrs. C. M. Welsh, of Oliver Street, Will Recover Is Belief.

Mrs. C. M. Welsh, of 2328 Oliver street, who was accidentally shot by her 5-year-old boy with a 22-caliber rifle, Monday, at Rome City, was brought home Tuesday afternoon. The bullet was headed straightway for the woman's heart and but for a corset stay would undoubtedly have found its mark. The stay deflected the bullet and as a result only made a slight wound. It is believed that she will speedily recover.

Three-fifths of the quota of $5,000, Fort Wayne's share in the $1,000,000 campaign for the establishment of Catholic social and recreation centers in the army has been raised by the local Knights of Columbus in two days time.

A general meeting of all local workers will be held Tuesday evening in the K. of C. hall with Maurice Niezer presiding.

The Cause of Constipation.

Constipation is usually due to a lack of water in the excrement. To effect a cure you must take more water in the system. It may be months, however, before this has any appreciable effect on the bowels, but when persisted in and fruit and vegetables containing water are eaten freely, the condition may be overcome. In the meantime use the mildest laxatives obtainable and take only enough to produce the desired effect. Chamberlain's Cough Syrup is one of the best. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect.—Advertisement.

Austin, Tex., has a plant which runs at full capacity each day turning out about "the perfect fuel brick," which is made from the city garbage, waste paper, old shoes, rags, etc. The new fuel sells at $6.50 a ton and is said to burn as long and to give off as much heat as the best bituminous lump coal, besides relieving the city of all waste material.

This Actually Removes Superfluous Hair Roots

Entirely New and Instantaneous Method.

By the introduction in this country of what is known as the "pholotonic process," any woman can now rid herself completely of annoying superfluous hair or fuzz. The process is entirely new, different from all others, and far better—because it actually removes the roots, as well as the surface hair! It is instantaneous, perfectly harmless, odorless and non-irritating.

Just get a stick of pholotonic from your druggist, follow the simple directions—see the hair roots come out! They are your own eyes! No depilatory or electrical treatment can produce this result. The skin is left soft, smooth and hairless. A child's face can be used with absolute safety—one could even eat it with impunity. If it doesn't do exactly as claimed you can have your money back without question.—Advertisement.

MOTION PICTURES TO WAR AGAINST WASTE

State Council of Defense Announces the Plan of Big Campaign.

Indianapolis, July 25.—The State Council of Defense, through its publicity committee, George Ade, chairman, today issued the following:

A picture of hunger—a mother in despair, her children weak and wan hanging about her in mute appeal, a desolate waste about them all—in short, a tragic vision of war, soon will be thrown before the very eyes of a large portion of Indiana's population. It will be no idle fancy but an actual illustration of what the world war already has brought to our allies across the sea.

And then immediately following will be another representation—the antidote. The proper interpretation of the second means the prevention of the first; the translation of its message into deeds, the transformation of the other into chimera.

The first picture displays the question, "Shall this be the answer to our waste—hunger? The mother and children, whose husband and father in arms is no longer able to provide them with food, sit dumbly in want and distress. The country is barren and there is no relief in sight. The second picture is entitled "Food" and beneath it follows the six important suggestions that National Administrator Hoover is endeavoring to drive home to the American housewife: 1, buy it with thought; 2, cook it with care; 3, serve just enough; 4, save what will keep; 5, eat what would spoil; 6, home-grown is best; don't waste it."

Indiana motion picture operators, headed by their state president, Frank J. Rembusch, of Shelbyville, have offered their plants and facilities to the nation-wide campaign for the conservation of food and their offer to display without charge the two pictures described above has been accepted by Dr. Harry E. Barnard, Indiana representative of Mr. Hoover. These pictures and the message they convey are expected to reach hundreds of thousands who might otherwise not give the important subject the necessary attention and thought.

Mr. Rembusch has just returned from a conference in Chicago, called by William A. Brady, of New York, who heads the national organization that will co-operate with these special picture slides in the same generous measure accorded the four-minute speaking campaign, the president's telephone, so called, for the distribution of public information by word of mouth, to movie patrons.

To Look and Feel Bright in Hot Weather

This is the season when she who would have a lily-white complexion should turn her thoughts to mercurized wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectively overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, freckled, withered or contracted cuticle, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It also unobscures the skin's breathing capacity, clogs the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. An ounce of mercurized wax, obtainable at any drugstore, applied nightly will gradually improve the worst complexion. When depressed by the heat and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or evening, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered sassafras in a half pint witch hazel. You'll find this more refreshing than an hour's rest. It is fine for smoothing out wrinkles, even the deeper ones.—Advertisement.

ROANOKE WOMEN ARE TAUGHT CANNING ART

First of Series of Demonstrations is Held by Agent Loew.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Roanoke, Ind., July 25.—The first of the canning demonstrations to be held throughout the country by County Agent T. A. Loew was held Tuesday afternoon in the Roanoke high school, about 125 interested women attending the meeting. An unusual amount of interest was manifested in Roanoke, many questions being asked and many of the women taking notes of the meeting. Peas, Beans, Beans and cauliflower were put up by Prof. Loew assisted by Miss Daisy Dean Williamson, supervisor of the domestic science department at Huntington college. The Roanoke women are to be congratulated on the success of the demonstration and the manner in which the equipment was provided. Prof. Loew pointed to this meeting as an example to the other communities of the county which are to have meetings later in the week. The process has many merits and the women of this vicinity are greatly interested in this method and if they do not make a success of it others need not try.

Roanoke Short Items.
There have been several meetings held recently at Beech Grove, Liberty and Gentry Hill school houses in the interest of a mutual independent telephone system. Large and enthusiastic crowds have been in attendance and papers were circulated for the sale of stock. Since the other proposition to consolidate with Maizeville failed, some are still determined to have the new company and are working diligently for the completion of such. It seems a little difficult to get the rural people enthused to buy the stock and a line can not be built and equipped on hot air. It takes the very closest of cooperation of all successfully conduct such an enterprise.

The station road east of town was the scene of an auto accident, caused by excessive speed. Clifford Dennis and Elmer Hamilton were going over the road with Cliff at the wheel and upon arriving at the bridge the speed was such that the turn could not be made and as a result the machine hit the railing of the bridge, tearing off a hub cap, damaging a fender and the top and breaking Elmer Hamilton's shoulder. It is a miracle they did not go into the river.

GARRETT COUNCIL

HAS BUSY SESSION

Contract for the Walsh
 Street Sewer is Let to Carl Weis, of Peru.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Garrett, Ind., July 25.—The contract for the Walsh street sewer was let to Carl Weis, of Peru, his bid being $22,811.90, which was $110.91 below the engineer's estimate. The main sewer will be built of Ferguson segment block made by the Robinson Clay Product Co., of Akron. The lateral sewer will be made of 24-inch double strength pipe. Work will begin on this August 12. This sewer proposition has been hanging fire for several years, there being much opposition and also considerable favorable comment regarding this proposed improvement. However, it will affect practically the entire town and especially the east part, where they were flooded every spring during the rainy season. The city marshal, Walter Saxer, is compiling a list of the sidewalk delinquents and will have the same ready to present in a few weeks. A tree trimming campaign will also be waged here in a short time. The city council had their attention called to many places in the city where trees are not trimmed according to the city ordinance, which requires them to be trimmed to a distance of ten feet from the sidewalk. Many are overhanging the sidewalks so low that it is necessary to stoop to walk under them. All of these things are for the good of the city and it is hoped the people will see it in that light. Health Officer Dr. F. Rodebaugh suggested to the council that a municipal hospital be built for the purpose of taking care of those who are ill with contagious disease and have no place to go. In many cases the spread of the disease could be checked entirely by this method. Owing to the fact that this is a railroad center and so many men are working here who have no homes but their boarding houses, it was thought the municipal hospital a very good suggestion.

Garrett News.

The graduating class of the Garrett high school of 1914 held their annual reunion Sunday at the home of Samuel Cook. At noon they enjoyed a wonderful dinner, such as farmers only can serve. The afternoon was spent in reviewing the happy school days, taking pictures, enjoying music and discussing the national condition. At 4 o'clock Mrs. Cook served ice cream and cake. The class originally consisted of twenty-two members, but only nine were able to attend the reunion. Those present were the Misses Mable Steckley, Ruth Lindorfer, Reba Jackson, Effie Gump, Earl Bass and the Messrs. Dale Green, Dean Bechtel and Arthur Gallatin.

The banquet given by the Wesley Brotherhood of the Garrett Methodist church to the men's class of the Kendallville Methodist Sunday school proved a great social affair, there being 225 present, 130 of whom were from Kendallville. The ladies of the Wesley Workers' class served the banquet. During the evening music was furnished by the Widener orchestra, after which short speeches were given by many of those present. The visiting brothers came in two special cars over the Fort Wayne and Northwestern. The banquet was given under the wicker in a contest of attendance, which the two schools put on and in which the Garrett brothers were the losers.

The Red Cross sewing rooms of the Garrett branch opened yesterday in the rooms being fitted up over Bettis' news stand. Mrs. John Thomson is

HOW BRITISH FIGHT U-BOAT

Graphic Account of Work of Saving Patrol Boat from Torpedo.

DESTROYER HAS NARROW SQUEEZE

Presence of Submarine Has Effect to Draw Swarm of Enemy Craft.

A British Port on the Southeast Coast, Wednesday, June 27.—(By Mail.)—Just how a British destroyer acts when attacked by a submarine was unexpectedly demonstrated to an Associated Press correspondent today while traveling on one of the modern oil-driven torpedo boat destroyers from England to France.

The correspondent had been taken aboard the destroyer for the purpose of observing British methods of combating the submarine menace when the boat was suddenly attacked by a submarine, a torpedo missing it by a scant six feet, thanks to the vigilance and quick action of the crew.

The destroyer was one of a certain number which were conveying in their usual manner some large transports carrying British troops to France. Diver is Sighted.

The group of ships was half way across the channel when suddenly one of the lookouts saw a pair of twin periscopes rise for a moment a few inches out of the water a half mile away. They were gone the next instant, but almost before they had gone came the shout: "Submarine on port bow," accompanied by a shrill call of warning from the destroyer's whistle and the fluttering of the flag which notified every other ship in the convoy of the enemy's presence.

On every ship things began to happen, more quickly than the telling. Guns were swung in the direction from which the periscopes had been seen. Torpedo tubes likewise were swung into line and the numerous anti-submarine devices along deck were in the hands of their skilled crew members.

But even while this was being done came the torpedo, clearly seen from the deck, its gleaming brass propellers sending it at express train speed straight toward the destroyer. Something was wrong with the mechanism of this particular torpedo for it should have traveled twelve or fifteen inches below the surface. Instead it came bounding along in plain sight, now and then leaping out of the water, like a flat stone made to skip over the surface.

Old Coxswain on the Job.

Even thus, it might have found its target but for the presence of mind of the sixty-year-old coxswain. He had been first to sight the periscopes, and had rushed immediately to an emergency lever, whereby he instantly stopped the port engine, thus swinging the ship with a lurch to the left. The torpedo whizzed through the water six feet behind the stern of the destroyer, its gradually lessening speed indicating that its possibility for mischief was nearly done.

Except for the coxswain's action in twisting the ship from its course, the missile would apparently have made a square hit in the stern magazine. Meanwhile the wireless was at work notifying the hundreds of patrols in all directions that the enemy was near. We sighted a submarine on the port bow, just off buoy, 2:03 p.m. Torpedo passed just behind our stern, missing us. We are proceeding with our convoy," said the captain's message. It was received simultaneously ashore and aloft by a hundred vigilant wireless operators. The destroyer's captain, according to his orders must not leave his convoy to seek out and attack the U-boat. Others would attend to that. Already they were gathering for the chase—trawlers, chasers, drifters, destroyers, even a dirigible alrship had caught the wireless call and with the quick turn of a sea gull, was swooping down to the pursuit.

No Precaution Neglected.

The transports and destroyers, although fairly confident that the U-boat would scarcely show herself again, even for a pot shot, were nevertheless taking every precaution. Every ship was at full speed, oil burning destroyers constantly protecting their charges. The whole attack occupied barely seconds. Convoy and charges were out of range in a few minutes at the most. Nowhere had there been the slightest panic or flurry, but movements of men and ships made with almost automatic precision and speed. The efficiency of the British naval man is the efficiency of clockwork. Every cog knows its place. There is no meddling, no clashing, no interference, but a confident rapid efficiency which somehow demands the use of the adjective "deadly."

Twenty minutes later the transports were safe in their port of destination and the destroyer convoy was off again, thirty miles an hour, down the coast, to its next appointment.

Meanwhile the hustiness of seeking out the enemy was going on in the fleet of submarine hunters which had gathered around "buoy." Just how the work was done and just what was the result, it is not permitted to tell.

BOARD NAMES NEW FORESTER

Adolph Jaenicke, of Colorado Springs, Succeeds Carl Getz.

ACTION TAKEN AT SPECIAL MEETING

The Retiring Superintendent Agrees to Help Successor Get Started.

From the city which nestles at the base of snow-crowned Pike's Peak comes the man who will be Fort Wayne's future park superintendent. Adolph Jaenicke, who has been employed in park work at Colorado Springs, Col., for several years, was engaged by the park board, in special session, Wednesday morning, to take the place of Carl Getz.

Resignation of Mr. Getz, who has served the city for six years, was officially accepted by the board at a special meeting. Mr. Getz will remain in the park service until he feels that his successor is prepared to take over the work. Jaenicke will start work at once. He is a trained forester as well as landscape and park director.

The delay in the action of the city council upon the request of the park board for an increase of Park Superintendent Getz's salary from $125 to $150 per month, led the board and Mr. Getz to conclude at the park board meeting on last Monday that favorable action was now made to meet the emergency. Mr. Getz expressed his willingness to remain long enough to assist the new superintendent in getting hold of the details of the work. Mr. Getz enters the employ of Schaaf & Hilgeman at a salary considerably in excess of the $150 per month at which he was willing to remain in the employ of the city.

The board had present at its meeting Mr. Jaenicke, with whom it had been in correspondence. Mr. Jaenicke has recently been employed in park work at Colorado Springs, which had been stopped by reason of the breaking out of the war. While he had been receiving a salary of $225 a month at Colorado Springs, being out of employment, he consented to take the position at the salary being paid Mr. Getz, but did not feel he could afford to do so if required to purchase the necessary automobile for his use. The board was inclined to furnish the automobile if the controller and city council would so arrange.

Educated in Berlin.

Mr. Jaenicke is 52 years of age; is a German by birth and education, being a graduate of the University of Berlin. He came to this country 24 years ago; became an American citizen in 1902; has one son in the army of the United States and another engaged in the forestry department of our national government, while his two unmarried daughters are actively engaged in the Red Cross work at Colorado Springs, where they are at present residing. He has had a wide experience in landscape gardening and in forestry and park work. He was for a number of years in charge of the Missouri Botanical Gardens at St. Louis and also laid out the estate of Mr. Clarence H. Howard, of that city. Prior to that he was for ten years superintendent for John Lewis Childs, of Floral park, New York.

Mr. Jaenicke commenced his duties here Wednesday and will very shortly remove his family to Fort Wayne. The board is very hopeful it has made a wise selection and Mr. Getz, who has taken Mr. Jaenicke over our park system, is very confident he will make a complete success of the work.

Statement to Public.

The following statement is made to the public by Carl J. Getz: "The park commissioners, whom I have served for about six years, are in the best position to know the value of a man directly under their supervision and in vain attempted to pay for that position an amount commensurate with the service performed. The common council did not see fit to back up this official body in their recommendation. While park work, forestry and landscape architecture are my main pursuits, I did not feel, in justice to my family and myself, to continue at a big sacrifice in salary. The city of Fort Wayne is a big corporation and should give her salaries sufficiently high to attract the best possible men to these executive positions."

"Fort Wayne is exceptionally fortunate in securing Adolph Jaenicke as their new city forester and park superintendent. He is exceptionally qualified and feels that Fort Wayne

New Eppo Petticoats For Summer

This is because they fit so smoothly about the waist and hips, snapping snugly and trimly, without banchiness or bulkiness and giving a perfect foundation for the frock or skirt worn over the petticoat.

Eppo Petticoats for Summer are made of a fine quality white sateen, beautifully tailored and priced at $1.00 in all sizes. Eppo Shadow-proof Petticoats are of fine white sateen, with double panel, this feature making it necessary to wear but one petticoat with sheer frocks—

Guarantors Are Compelled to Pay $310 to Make Up the Deficit.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Auburn, Ind., July 25.—The Coit Alber Chautauqua, which closed in this city Saturday night, did not prove a financial success and the guarantors were compelled to pay $310 to make up the deficit. They did not sign a contract for next year. All of the numbers were excellent and the people of Auburn were well pleased with the entertainment given, but owing to the great activities for the Red Cross and war fund they felt they had enough for the present, although they may decide later to contract for another season.
